CAMPBELL MAPS TERMS AS U. C. HEAD

Director of Lick Observatory Drafting "Understanding" On Which He Will Become Successor to Dr. Barrows

Scientist to Demand Full Power in Academic Affairs and Control of Expenditures, Friends Declare

Dr. William Wallace Campbell, director of Lick Observatory, is now drafting his own terms on which he will accept the presidency of the University of California.

That Dr. Campbell has been in conference with the university regents and that he has been offered the position as successor to Dr. David P. Barrows was learned today.

"If the regents desire me to assume this position I must take my own time to consider the matter from all angles," is the reply which the Mount Hamilton astronomer is declared to have made to college heads when urged to assume the presidency. He persisted today, however, in his refusal to comment on the situation.

Since being formally offered the presidential post Dr. Campbell is declared to have spent much of his time on the university campus investigating various phases of college administration. He is known to have been in conference with Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president emeritus of the University of California, who is declared to have been one of his strongest sponsors for the position, and also to have met with James Sutton, recorder of the faculties, who in his position as secretary of the Academic Senate is in close touch with faculty matters.

SECRET PARLEY IS DENIED. Comptroller Robert Sproul, secretary of the regents, and Dr. Campbell both deny a report that Dr. Campbell was in conference behind closed doors with the regents of the university last Tuesday morning preceding the monthly meeting of the college heads held in San Francisco. This conference is declared to have lasted for two hours.

That Dr. Campbell should be declared to accept the presidency will profit by the mistake of Dr. Barrows, who assumed office without a definite "understanding" with the regents, is generally conceded in campus circles. To thus lack of an "understanding" and a definite statement of duties and powers is attributed the reason for Dr. Barrows' resignation.

President Emeritus Wheeler, on the other hand, assumed office with free hands and refused to accept the presidency until he had been granted unrestricted powers. Dr. Campbell is declared to be negotiating Dr. Wheeler's action and should he accept the presidency, college officials declare, it will be as an executive with full powers to administer the affairs of all branches of the state institution. Dr. Campbell, it is declared also, is demanding the right to sit at weekly meetings of the executive committee of the board of regents and to have a controlling voice in the expenditure of college finances. At the present time much of the financial policy is left to the comptroller's office.

DEFINITION OF POWER ANALYZED. Dr. Campbell, moreover, is declared to be analyzing the definition of the powers accorded the president of the University of California. These powers read in part as follows: "The president shall be the executive officer of all academic and administrative departments" covers is what the famous scientist is declared to be investigating at present.

News of Dr. Campbell's reported conference with Recorder Sutton strengthens the rumors that the Mount Hamilton scientist will be the new president. As some of Dr. Barrows' difficulties arose in the Academic Senate, composed of faculty members, the prospective president is declared by friends to be laying a "firm foundation" for a peaceful regime on the campus should he decide to accept the post. University regents and other college officials maintain a strict silence on the question of a successor to Dr. Barrows. The college regents are declared to have taken unusual precautions to guard with secrecy their activities along this line. Not even persons usually in "the know" on the campus in relation to "inner workings" of the institution have anything more than rumor and gossip to tell them who their next "chief" will be. Coupled with the name of Dr. Campbell.

U. C. Teacher, Wife Arrested Taken Off Train on S. P. Plea Studying Conditions of Hoboes

Towne Nylander, teaching fellow in economics at the University of California, and Mrs. Nylander, were taken from a northbound Shasta Limited train at Woodland at 3 o'clock this morning, and taken to the Yolo county jail, upon the telegraphic request of the Southern Pacific agent at Davis, according to Sheriff Robert Wood of Yolo county.

Because no charge had been placed against them, Sheriff Wood refused to lock them up, and the two were allowed to depart. Nylander told Sheriff Wood that he was employed by the university to study labor conditions in the northern part of the state, and that he and his wife were on a tour of investigation at the time.

Berkeley's Latest Ukase Will Banish Billy Goats, Noises

Curfew must not ring tonight—not in Berkeley! Further, father must not snore, mother must not knit out loud, sister must not plunk on her uke, brother must not tattle on his saxophone, Cousin Oscar must not sneeze his Stradivarius, little Horace must not shake her rattle, Rover must not bark and Felina must not spoon on the back fence.

The baby must suffer in silence rather than make known its needs, the educated policeman must lay down a gentle foot, the fireman must proceed sireless to his work, the motorman must remove his foot from the clanging bell, the motorist must desist from honking—there must be peace and quiet in huge gohs, for—

The Berkeley City Council today passed to print an ordinance prohibiting all noise between the hours of nine in the evening and seven in the morning and ruling that the whistled symphonies of Biblical fame must be as bedlam compared to blissful Berkeley. At the meeting this morning the council accepted the ordinance prepared by the Affiliated Clubs of Berkeley and on presentation by Mayor Louis Bartlett thereby made it a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment or fine to violate the ukase which provides definite rules and regulations for the habits of the citizenry.

TWO KILLED BY PTOMAIN POISON

Mystery Surrounds Deaths of Woman and Little Son At Delhi.

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. MODESTO, Dec. 15.—Mystery surrounds the sudden deaths from poisoning of two members of the family of Paul Mark in Delhi.

Mrs. Mary Mark, 33, his wife, died of an illness of 24 hours. Lee Paul Mark, 3, their son, died at the same hour yesterday morning. Autopsies performed on the two bodies caused doctors to pronounce both deaths due to a violent type of ptomaine poisoning known as botulism.

Shortly after Mrs. Mark became sick 20 chicken on the Mark place died. One interesting feature is the fact that Mark and his other three children did not become ill. This could be explained, doctors say, by the fact that frequently ptomaine poisoning does not affect all of those who eat the infected food.

Germany Plans War, French Chief Says PARIS, Dec. 15.—Germany is planning another war, with a new and deadly poison gas that will penetrate any mask and especially designed airplanes charged with liquids that will annihilate cities, Andre Michelin, speaking before a gathering of political and industrial leaders, declared.

Michelin raised a bogie of renewed warfare similar to that conjured up by Georges Clemenceau in the United States, declaring German factories are busy turning out implements of war, chief among which, outside of poisons, would be special torpedo carrying planes.

DAUGHERTY'S FOE DEFIES COMMITTEE

Keller, Author of Resolution to Impeach Attorney-General, Quits Probe, Refuses to Respond to Subpoena

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Representative Keller, Republican of Minnesota, failed to appear today before the House judiciary committee in response to a formal summons. At his office afterward it was stated that he had decided definitely not to respond to the subpoena served on him late yesterday after he had dramatically announced his withdrawal from further participation before this committee in the presentation of his impeachment charges against Attorney-General Daugherty.

Whether the committee will undertake to compel his appearance or to hale him before the bar of the House for contempt, will not be decided before tomorrow, postponement of further proceedings until that time having been taken at the request of Attorney General H. Ralston, who stated in a letter to Chairman Volstead that he was representing the Minnesota member.

ON COUNSEL'S ADVICE. Immediately there was inquiry as to whether Keller would appear tomorrow. James B. Vaher, an attorney of Boston, who presented Ralston's letter, said he was unable to answer that question; that Keller would act on advice of counsel. Announcing that Ralston's letter asking for a postponement because of the pressing business engagements he had made for today constituted no excuse for the non-appearance of Keller, Chairman Volstead ordered that his name be called.

The House sergeant-at-arms called Keller's name three times, but there was no response. Delay was then granted until 10:20 a. m. tomorrow.

Hamblin has been in Stockton about three weeks. He was traced by means of a Minnesota auto license.

LABOR ROUSED AS COMMONS CLOSES

Hostile Demonstration Marks Prorogation; Law to Aid Jobless Demanded.

By DAVID M. CHEIRCH. International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—Parliament was prorogued today with a speech from the throne in which King George uttered an earnest prayer that the creating of the Irish Free State may bring prosperity and concord to both Ireland and Britain. He expressed the hope that the Near East peace conference would succeed and said that economic conditions in Europe were giving him grave concern.

Liberal members of Congress threatened hostile demonstrations because Parliament was prorogued before measures were taken for relief of the unemployed over the winter. George Lansbury, a Laborite member of Commons, made formal protest against closing the session but his protests were rejected. King George said his "ministers will continue to examine with great care all possible measures dealing with unemployment." He continued:

"Agriculture and industry are passing through a period of depression. My ministers are investigating in hope that means be found to alleviate some of the difficulties confronting the farmers and the laboring people."

After discussing domestic measures passed, the king went on: "I earnestly trust that a satisfactory agreement will be reached by the nations in conference at Lausanne." On account of a hostile demonstration by the Laborites, the parliament building was strongly guarded by police.

Steamship Uralitz, Operated By League of Nations, Catches Fire at Sea.

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. ATHENS, Dec. 15.—Fifty-two persons were burned to death or drowned when the Georgian steamship Uralitz, operated by the League of Nations in transferring fugitives from Asia Minor, took fire in the Black Sea off Zongouskai. An American destroyer and British warships went to the rescue.

First reports indicated that all but fifty-two of the vessel's passengers and crew had been taken off in safety. Refugees and crew were placed aboard the British auxiliary vessel Prince Henry and conveyed to Constantinople.

LADY ASTOR DERIDED BY OWN PARTY

"Go Back to America" Shouted When Woman Creates Furore by Speech During Conservatives' Gathering

"Shut Up" Yells Viscountess as Hecklers Cry "Sit Down;" Row Caused by Rapping Her Colleagues

LONDON, Dec. 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—Lady Astor was the center of a stormy scene at the conference of the National Unionist Association this afternoon, before the arrival of Prime Minister Bonar Law, when she made a speech arousing so much ire that she was several times howled down. One delegate shouted: "Go back to America."

Speaking on a resolution, introduced by another woman member, advocating a campaign of economic warfare to refuse the "insidious and incessant socialist propaganda," Lady Astor threw the first bomb when, referring to the Conservatives, she said:

"We have members living in more than one house and they don't realize the conditions of people living in two rooms. It is not that teachers are socialists. I don't blame them."

"GO BACK TO AMERICA," ONE DELEGATE CRIES. Disorder followed these remarks and there were cries of "shame" and "withdraw" while one delegate shouted: "Go back to America."

Lady Astor shouted back: "You are worse than the labor party. Shut up! If you don't shut up you won't be able to hear what I'm saying."

GENERAL DISORDER AND SHOUTS OF "SIT DOWN." Shortly afterward there was further dissent from her hearers and Lady Astor retorted:

"After all I've never shown any lack of courage. It is very unfortunate to be howled down at your own party meeting." Lady Astor then proceeded to speak a few sentences when again there was disorder with cries of "sit down."

The chairman finally got the meeting quieted sufficiently for Lady Astor to proceed but she had barely started again when Bonar Law arrived and the discussion ended.

DEBT TANGLE MOVE TAKEN BY HARDING

International Loan, As Means to Save Germany From Financial Crash, Debated At U. S. Cabinet Conference

France and England Draft New Proposal Involving American Aid in Solving Reparations, Loan Muddle

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The European reparations tangle which is threatening a break between Great Britain and France is understood to have been discussed by President Harding and his cabinet today at a meeting which lasted more than two hours.

It was indicated afterward that there had been no final decision as to the policy of this government toward the present difficulties. There were evidences, however, that the administration was preparing to avail itself of all possible information on the subject with a view to determining whether it could be of service in any practicable way in bringing about an adjustment.

INTERNATIONAL LOAN DISCUSSED. One of the questions touched upon in the cabinet discussion is said to have been the proposal for an international loan to permit Germany to stabilize her finances, reported in official advices to the American government as on the verge of a collapse. It was declared, however, that no concrete proposal for such a loan had come to the attention of the Washington government.

FRANCE, ENGLAND TO ASK U. S. AID. BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. PARIS, Dec. 15.—France and England are in accord on the question of asking the United States to participate in readjustment of international debts on a basis laid down privately at the London Premiers' conference. It was semi-officially announced today.

It is understood the American government will be asked: 1.—To reduce rates of interest on capital loans. 2.—To increase delays, already consented to for definite settlement.

3.—To cooperate in helping nations "which suffered most from the war." France is to cancel the obligation of her debtors among the small nations which fought on the allied side of the war, and England will cancel the French debt, America, it is said, will be asked to "imitate France."

AMBASSADOR HARVEY CALLED HOME

LONDON, Dec. 15.—(By International News Service.)—Secretary of State Hughes has summoned George Harvey, American ambassador to England, home to discuss European affairs, it was announced at the United States embassy today. Ambassador Harvey will sail December 22.

British newspapers express the belief that the American visit of Ambassador Harvey is the forerunner of American intervention in reparations discussions in Europe. Previous to the announcement by the embassy today it was reported that the ambassador was taking Mrs. Harvey to the United States on account of her health. She has been ill for several weeks.

Ambassador Harvey will discuss all European affairs, including reparations, said the statement. Ambassador Harvey will sail just four days before the British debt commission reaches London.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES. International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—A final showdown, in which America's voice is bound to play an important part, is imminent in the long standing reparations controversy that has kept Europe almost constantly embroiled for four years. The exact part which the United States will play in the settlement is yet to be determined. It has formed the chief subject of cabinet discussion for several weeks, and was uppermost in the minds of President Harding and his cabinet when they met again today. It is unlikely, however, that any definite line of American procedure will be determined until Colonel George Harvey, American ambassador to Great Britain, arrives in Washington the last of this month.

CAMPBELL MAPS TERMINUS TO TAKE U. C. PRESIDENCY

Head of Lick Observatory to Demand Full Power, Say Friends.

Campbell as Dr. Barrows' successor in office is that of Dr. Walter Albert Jessup, president of the University of Iowa. Dr. Jessup is one of the list of candidates declared to have been submitted to the regents by Dr. Wheeler on the latter's return from a "scouting" trip east several months ago.

Until Dr. Campbell's name was formally submitted to the board by Regent William H. Crocker of San Francisco, who has financed all the recent astronomical expeditions of the University of California, Dr. Jessup was declared to hold "high place" on the list of candidates. Should Dr. Campbell refuse for any reason to accept the presidency Dr. Jessup is declared to be the man next in line for the post.

Dr. Jessup has been president of the University of Iowa since 1916 and before that time was dean of the college of education at the same institution. He was at one time superintendent of schools in Westfield, Ind., and in Madison, Ind. Later he was dean of the school of education at Indiana University, resigning in 1912 to accept an offer from the University of Iowa. He is 45 years old.

Dr. Campbell is 60 years old and under the provisions of the Carnegie Pension Fund would have but five years to serve as president.

This is not the first time Dr. Campbell's name is declared to have been mentioned for the Presidency of the University of California. At the time President Wheeler resigned, Regent Crocker is also known strongly to have urged the name of Campbell for the post. The name was also mentioned for the post by Crocker in the interests of his candidate who is the opinion expressed by college circles.

Brother Sees Slayer Hanged Reads Verses on Scaffold First Execution in 44 Years

PONTIAC, Ill., Dec. 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—Myron Corbridge, 21, was hanged this morning for the murder of John S. Jones, a reformatory guard, with a piece of gas pipe last June.

The young man went to his death declaring his innocence. "I am going to be hanged for a crime I did not commit," he declared.

Then he read verses of his own composition dedicated to his mother, two brothers and a sister.

A brother, Fred Corbridge, of Jacksonville, Ill., witnessed the execution, the first in Livingston county since 1878.

"Fred, take good care of mama, good bye Fred, good bye," were the doomed man's last words.

Fourteen minutes after the trap was sprung Corbridge was pronounced dead and his body turned over to the brother for removal to Jacksonville for burial.

The scaffold was one borrowed from Cook county and the hanging took place in a tent erected behind the jail because the jail itself held no space large enough for the gallows.

PONTIAC, Ill., Dec. 15.—(By International News Service.)—Myron Corbridge, who had spent half the years of his life in penal institutions, displayed a granite stoicism at the approach of death.

At 4:45, the condemned boy was awakened to see his brother and to prepare for the hanging. He had slept soundly for almost four hours, having retired at 3 a. m. Early in the evening he had played cards with the guards and at midnight he ate a hearty supper of hamburger rolls, coffee, ice cream and ginger ale.

GEORGE HARVEY RECALLED FROM POST IN LONDON

Secretary Hughes and Ambassador to Confer on Debts Before Parley.

PRESIDENT SEES
GRAVE SITUATION

How gravely the president and his advisers regard the situation, in the light of recent developments, may be drawn from the fact that Colonel Harvey has been summoned to return home for the first time since he went abroad.

President Harding is being urged to make a clear-cut statement of America's position toward the reparations muddle and the question of international war debts. Such a statement, some of his cabinet advisers believe, would have the effect of clarifying the issues and would afford the basis upon which a fresh start could be made toward getting out of the chaos that now exists abroad.

OUTLINE OF U. S.
DEBT POLICY.

Such a pronouncement of American policy probably would include:

1—The United States regards the questions of reparations and war debts as two separate questions and must be dealt with as such so far as this country is concerned.

2—Not being a recipient of German reparations, the United States is interested in the question only so far as it affects the general health and welfare of Europe.

3—The United States, however, does consider that reparations should be scaled down to a point where Germany can pay and still keep her head above economic waters that now threaten to engulf her.

4—The United States would look with disfavor upon any military occupation of the Ruhr by France.

CONDITIONS OF AMERICAN LOAN.

5—Should reparations be scaled down commensurately with Germany's ability to pay the American government would be disposed to look favorably upon the participation of private American banking interests in a gigantic international loan to Germany to stabilize the mark and enable Germany to get on her feet.

6—The American government itself will not participate in any joint international loan to Germany, considering that $11,000,000,000 in United States government funds are now "frozen" in Europe with no country except Great Britain making any real effort to pay.

7—The United States will not and cannot consider any proposition looking to general cancellation of war debts, but is willing to consider liberal terms by which Europe can discharge her obligations to the United States and at the same time rehabilitate herself economically.

8—Those are the present tenets of the present proposal, it is revealed in official quarters to International News Service.

MORGAN HAS DISCUSSED LOAN.

The projected international loan of $1,500,000,000 to Germany by private bankers has been discussed by J. Pierpont Morgan and Secretary of State Hughes, and there is reason to believe they are substantially in accord that American bankers shall not participate in any such loans unless reparations are toned down to a point where Germany can pay.

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover took a report to the cabinet today that Germany's plight is desperate; that actual starvation faces the German nation unless something is done to restore the mark to some fractional part of its old purchasing power.

"Yes, it is funny. I don't know what's the cause of it, especially when one feels like they are pretty well dressed, anyway."

"I never do have that feeling, but it seems that I just have to have something new for a trip. "Silly, don't get any new clothes if you don't need them."

"Well, that's the funny thing. I hadn't planned to get any, but when I visualized myself down there in my own lovely home, nothing seems to do. I'll just have to have a dress. That's all there is to it."

LaFollette Opens Fight On Ship Subsidy Bill

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEARNED WIRE TO TRIMBLE.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—

Opening the attack of the Progressive bloc against the administration shipping bill, Senator LaFollette (Rep.), Wisconsin, declared in the Senate today that the measure "is contrary to the expressed will of the American people and that the action of the President and its sponsors in attempting to force its passage at this time is an open challenge to the people and a violation of the trust reposed by the people in their delegated representatives."

The Wisconsin senator denounced the bill in bitter terms, criticized the President and Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board in sharp language, challenged the arguments made by the executive in his message to congress urging enactment of the legislation and charged Lasker with having made "a highly improper proposal" in order to obtain the support of organized labor.

DECLARES POLICY IS REPEATEDLY REJECTED.

"I do not believe that a worse bill than this ever came before the Senate of the United States for its consideration," he asserted. "It represents a policy that has been repeatedly rejected by the people of this country."

"The public opinion of the country is overwhelmingly opposed to it today."

"It simply means turning over the people's property to favored interests for a few cents on the dollar and a tax of millions of dollars levied annually in order to pay a subsidy to those who take the ships practically as a gift. It means millions of dollars of tax refunds to the shipping interests. It does not even promise, much less guarantee, cheaper rates for ocean commerce. It proposes to destroy our army and naval transports and turn this great agency of potential defense over to private ownership. It does not guarantee the building of a single new ship or the maintenance of those we have. It is wholly bad, and the attempt to force it upon an unwilling country cannot be too strongly condemned."

The senator enumerated a long list of farmer and labor organizations opposing the bill, and declared he was prepared to make the statement that three-fourths of the American people had gone on record as opposed to a ship subsidy, and "more particularly to the terms of this bill." He added that the farmers of the country were unanimously opposed to it.

IMPROPER PROPOSAL TO LABOR CHARGED.

"I content myself," said the senator, "with the statement that Chairman Lasker sought a conference with Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and made a highly improper proposal to a group of labor officials that they disregard the will and the interests of their membership and support the pending bill."

"This conference took place on April 6 and 7 in the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor in the city of Washington. Chairman Lasker then and there, I am informed, offered to withdraw certain provisions in the pending bill dealing with labor if he could thereby induce the labor organizations to abate their opposition to the bill."

"Let it be said to the everlasting credit of the representatives of the working men of this country, that they spurned this bare-faced proposal. . . . Chairman Lasker found he could not buy American labor."

Passage of the measure at this time, he stated, "would be a gross violation of the very spirit and letter of the principles of representative government."

PLEA OF PRESIDENT STIRS SENATOR'S FIRE.

The plea of the President in his message to the recent special session that members of Congress disregard "the too hasty impressions of a constituency," in the interest of the larger national good, particularly drew the fire of the Senator, who declared the appeal represented "the madness of the present administration," and would not be tolerated in any other representative government of the world.

He challenged the President's statement that enactment of the bill would relieve the treasury of losses now sustained by reason of shipping board operation of government tonnage, and asserted the plan embodied in the bill would "plunder and rob" the American people.

Chairman Lasker was attacked by the Senator as a man appointed to public office "not to operate ships, but to 'sell' ship subsidy to the American people." He accused the shipping board chairman of refusing to give information to congress as to the cause of losses in government operation of ships, and charged that he had "tried to make government operation a failure."

The Wisconsin senator, in concluding his address, took up the bill section by section, criticizing its provisions and pointing out what he contended were dangers in it.

WOULD QUIZ ALL IMMIGRANTS IN HOME COUNTRIES

Secretary of Labor Davis Proposes Legislation to Stem Foreign Rush.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Selection of immigrants seeking admission to the United States by examination before they leave their foreign home countries was proposed by Secretary of Labor Davis in a recommendation which would revolutionize the present system of immigration examination, set forth in the secretary's annual report recently made public. The secretary declared that the present system gives to foreign nations the privilege of selecting the immigrants whom they will permit to come to the United States. Secretary Davis presented his proposal as follows: "With the close of the world war America faced a veritable flood of immigrants, seeking refuge from the conditions in the war-torn countries of Europe and the Near East. To stem the tide Congress passed a law limiting the immigrants from any foreign country to 3 per cent of the foreign-born persons of each nationality resident in the United States in 1910. Under this law the United States has checked the stream of aliens flowing to this country, arbitrarily, pending the framing of a policy under which only the best of those applying for admission will be allowed to enter. In the first year of its operation the 3 per cent law cut down the number of foreigners

HORDES SEEK ADMISSION.

"Nearly 1,000,000 foreigners, representing every element in the tangled populations of the old world, and every race beneath the sun, sought admission to America in the year before the percentage law became effective. During the first year under the law less than 300,000 were admitted. One effect of the law was to cut down materially the percentage of the total immigration which came from southern and eastern Europe, the source of the alien stream which the year before brought about 750,000 to our shores. The normal immigration from northern and western Europe has been practically unchecked by the percentage law.

"One of the peculiar features of the 3 per cent act is the favor shown the Japanese and Chinese races. The law specifically exempts from its operation the countries with which there are treaty agreements, which leaves the so-called 'gentlemen's agreement' and the Chinese exclusion laws in full force. The number forming 'exempted' classes is considerably in excess of the 3 per cent limit placed upon nationals of other countries. In other words, these 'excluded' races are given preference over the so-called 'most favored'.

PRESENT SYSTEM FAULTY.

"The greatest fault with our present immigration system is that it gives the privilege of selection to the sovereign powers of other nations. This power was first given absolute to the Japanese under the so-called 'gentlemen's agreement' under the provisions of which that government covenanted to give passports to only certain classes of her people. There has always been some controversy as to whether this power was fairly executed, though if it is not it is likely that Japanese authorities have been as badly duped as our own.

"The passport system, at the present time is, with reference to resources—about the kind of emigrants to be given the privilege of taking part in our national affairs. Instead of accepting the passport needs. It is time that we ourselves had something to say—if we are to continue to rely upon alien labor for the development of our

of giving America the right to choose her future residents from among those applying, two other good results will be achieved by the legislation requested. First, it will prevent the breaking up of homes and families, all or part of which might be found inadmissible give us a record of the individual made up at his own home, upon which our program for Americanization and education could be intelligently based. Better, immigrants should be the watchword, for it means better citizens and better institutions."

The ministers of Middletown, New York, request that there be no funerals held on Sunday.

Styles are correct; the weights are appropriate; patterns are pleasing. All these things are, of course, to be expected. But more than either—Roos O'Coats are well-fitting, and the fit remains until the clothing is worn out. The "wear of the fit" is as important as the "wear of the fabric and the style."

Mother Dupes Spouse, Poses Girl As Boy

(By International News Service.)
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—For the first eight years of her life "Walter" Youke lived as a boy, because of the overwhelming desire of his mother to have a son.
This was revealed recently in Lake County Juvenile Court when the child's parents were summoned to appear before Judge E. Miles Norton and explain why they had a boy in their home of school age who had never attended school.
Investigation showed the "boy" was really a girl, and was kept home to conceal her sex.

Sausage Leads to Thieves' Capture

(By International News Service.)
DENVER, Dec. 15.—It was the clue that led to detectives arresting three robbers here. Three young men entered a cigar store and held up the man behind the counter. They had taken some cigarettes when an alarm caused them to bolt, leaving behind a cycle carrier in which they had placed the cigarettes. The detectives on examining the basket found sausage makers.
The sausage makers, however, were not the clue that led to the capture of the three robbers.

L. A. AUTOIST AND HIS WIFE FEARFUL SLAIN IN EAST

Blood-Stained Auto Found Abandoned Near Lake in Cincinnati Park.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—(United Press)—Although the automobile belonging to Walter Phillips, found in Cincinnati in a battered and blood-stained condition, has no connection with the Clara Phillips case, it is believed by authorities here to have revealed a new end baffling murder.
Walter Phillips 33, and his wife, left here in the machine for Denver, Colo., August 11. Later they intended to drive back to New York, where Phillips' parents lived, while his wife was going to Philadelphia for a visit, her parents living there.

MAIL NOT DELIVERED.
They had trunks forwarded to Denver by friends. Mail forwarded there at general delivery, Denver, which they had given as forwarding address, was returned here.
During the year that the Phillips and his wife Phillips worked in a department store. The couple got along well and had no domestic difficulties, neighbors said.
Phillips was described as large, heavy set, light complexioned. Mrs. Phillips was described as a short, fleshy woman of about 30.

CLUE TO OWNERS FOUND.
CINCINNATI, Dec. 15 (United Press)—A clue to the owners of the blood-spattered auto found last night was furnished today by John Pius police lieutenant. Pius said two young men appeared at an auto repair shop Tuesday and inquired the price of a set of auto curtains. They had a machine of the same make as found last night. The men said they had driven from California.

Police doubted today that Mrs. Clara Phillips escaped "hammer blows" was a passenger in the automobile when it reached Cincinnati.
The license tags had been removed from the mystery car, but in a pocket of the machine was found a registration certificate issued by the White-Oakland Pacific company to "Walter Phillips 1155 Wall street, Los Angeles." There also was a driver's license issued September 21, 1921, to "Walter Phillips 649 South Kohler St., Los Angeles." Its number was 726-033.

LAKE SEARCHED FOR BODIES
CINCINNATI, Dec. 15.—The discovery of an abandoned, mud-splattered touring automobile in which was a pool of blood, near Lincoln Park, last night, has caused the police to suspect that some one was killed or seriously injured or stabbed, and then thrown into Lincoln Park lake. Officers obtained poles and two prodded the bottom of the lake. The search was fruitless.
Detective Chief Emmet Kegan who took charge of the investigation today advanced a theory that the car was driven from near Newcastle Ind. by the slayers of William G. Shaffer and his wife last Tuesday.

Certificates of War Savings to Be Cashed Jan. 1

In order that they may avoid delay in receiving payment, Postmaster J. J. Rosborough today issued the following statement, which will be of interest to the holders of registered 1918 War Savings Certificates:
"Owners of registered 1918 War Savings certificates are urged to present their certificates at window 120, second floor, main postoffice, Seventeenth street and Broadway, at once, in order to avoid delay in receiving payment on January 1, 1923."
"War Savings certificates will be received in advance of January 1, 1923, for redemption on that date. Payment to be made by check to the order of the holder, which will be mailed so far as possible to reach him on or about January 1, 1923."
"Exchange of War Savings certificates for treasury certificates, series of 1922, will be made as of January 1, 1923, and new treasury certificates dated January 1, 1923, will be delivered promptly upon exchange of certificates registered at branches or stations of this office should be presented at the main office."

Plenty of Work in Mountain Region
DENVER, Colo., Dec. 15.—(United Press)—Improved conditions, industrially and agriculturally, have practically eliminated the chances of there being thousands of Mexican laborers without jobs this winter in the Rocky mountain region according to Manuel Esparza, Mexican consul here.
Last winter 2,000 Mexican laborers in Colorado and Wyoming were repatriated at the expense of the Mexican government, because there was no work for them. This year conditions are different, Esparza said.

STORM AND MUD DRAVEY BY GROUND AT HERRIN TRIAL

Day Spent in Effort to Identify Defendants As Members of Murder Mob.

MARION, Ill., Dec. 15.—Over storm-swept roads, axle-deep with mud in places, men, women and children journey today in automobiles of every description, horse-drawn vehicles of ancient vintage and even trucks—all bound for the Williamson county courthouse to attend the third day's session of the trial of five men in connection with the Herrin riot.
Before court opened, the little town square, of which the brick courthouse is the center, was black with mud-spattered vehicles. Yesterday, more than 500 persons were crowded into the courtroom and several hundred more were refused admission. Among the spectators were scores of women, some of them with children in their arms or tugging at their skirts.
The prosecution today quizzed witnesses with a view to proving that the five men accused of murder were with the mob which killed 22 men in June.
George Harrison, who said he was a farmer residing near Herrin, identified Bert Grace, one of the five on trial, as a member of the gang which passed across his farm yard on the day of the murders.
William Goodman testified he saw Otis Clark, one of the five defendants, in a mob of more than 500 which was marching across prisoners down a country road near Herrin the morning of the riot.
Clark was the fourth of the five accused men to be identified by witnesses as members of the mob.

Tasty Dish Ruined By Prohibition Law

(By International News Service.)
America without lobster à l'Américaine, writes Pangloss in L'Ouvre. He feels that one of the essential symbols of the nation is going to disappear through the laws of prohibition. "We owe many thanks to our American friends for great inventions from the Taylor method to the telephone, but one of the most blessed appears to me to be lobster à l'Américaine." Since America has become dry it is impossible to cook a good lobster, for this dish demands a drop of wine—very little—but even the little is lacking.

"Rubbing it in on Baby"

The tiny pores of baby's skin are the external mouths of minute ducts which connect with the circulatory system of the precious little body. Olive Oil applied to the surface of the body is so convenient to the organism that it is carried directly into the circulatory system, where it is strained through the walls of the larger tubes and enters into the tissue building fluids of the body.

Wonderful results often follow the outward application of olive oil. Many little lives have been saved and robust, healthy children have been created from weak, little, anemic, under-nourished bodies by the simple use of pure olive oil gently rubbed into the tender, starved pores of baby's skin.

Be sure to use pure olive oil. Sylmar Olive Oil is a perfect massage for baby and grown-ups, too.

FIRST SNOWFALL HITS CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—Heavy precipitation, either snow or rain, in portions of the United States except Florida, with particularly heavy snowfall in the lower lake region, gave Chicago its first snow of any consequence this season, and the first heavy snowfall of the year in New York marked the progress of a winter over the United States.

Chicago's snowfall measured about one-half inch and left the streets slippery. Three persons were injured, ships crashed in the harbor and a fuel furnace threatened as a result of New York's first heavy snowstorm this year. Extra police were placed on guard at lumber yards to keep the cold sufferers from depleting the yards. Windy temperatures were felt in the eastern and southern states, it remained unusually cold in the northwest region and was colder from the upper Mississippi valley southwestward to Colorado and the Texas Panhandle.

Sleet covered a large part of Kansas and northwestern Missouri, causing a number of vehicle accidents resulting in injury to pedestrians. The weather continued cold in both states. Oklahoma reported a drop in the mercury from wind blowing across the Kansas border, which ended a period of heavy weather. Below freezing temperatures were expected.

A rise in the temperature in the northwest to near zero promised a temporary and slight relief from the below zero temperatures prevalent for several days. Rain along the California coast was predicted. At Dallas, Texas, the temperature was reported cooler after a rise yesterday.

Snow flurries, with falling temperatures, were predicted for New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Colorado and Western Texas. Colder weather was announced for the Rocky Mountain states. Breckenridge, Colo., reported a fifteen-inch snowfall last night.

IRELAND'S WANTS

ADDED IN TAX AMOUNT IN THE

DUBLIN, Dec. 15.—The Irish income tax is raising several interesting problems. During the fight with the English, the order went forth that no Irishman should pay income tax to the British. It was difficult to collect it, therefore, and large arrears remained outstanding. When the treaty was made, the British assigned to the Irish government all the Irish arrears of income tax as an asset. Unless these arrears are paid the deficit of the Irish government will be considerably increased.

But there is now great hesitation about paying. People say it is hard enough to pay one year's income tax without adding arrears which they were invited not to pay, and have since spent. The suggestion has been made by a responsible financier that the pre-truce income tax should be wiped out. But the Irish government's agreement with the British assumed certain burdens for which these arrears were a liability. If the arrears are not paid, additional taxation will have to be imposed to meet those burdens. Appeals are made on the ground of patriotism and duty to the new government but it seems evident that a large part of the arrears are now uncollectible.

The future of the Irish income tax is also attracting attention. There is a considerable class of well-to-do people, who, although domiciled in Ireland have property in England, and there are many tenants in Ireland who have property in the Free State.

Last of State's Gold Reserve Is Shipped to Bank

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 15.—Two hundred thousand dollars in $20 gold pieces—the last of the gold reserves held in the California state treasury—was bundled into sacks today and shipped to the Federal Reserve bank in San Francisco to be exchanged for currency by order of Friend W. W. Johnson, state treasurer and governor-elect.

The exchange was made as a matter of convenience, as the currency is much easier handled. The shipment represents the last of several made during and since the war to the Federal bank, totaling approximately $5,000,000.

Ireland to Revoke Tax on U. S. Autos

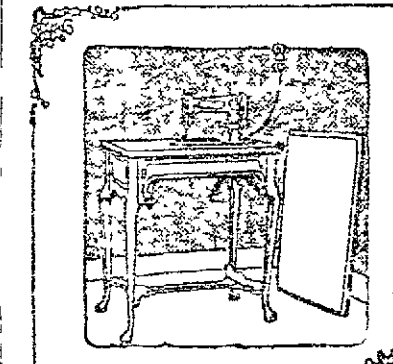

DUBLIN, Dec. 15.—Free State opportunity to revoke the tax upon automobiles imported from America. For the protection of British manufacturers the British government imposed a heavy tax upon cars arriving in Great Britain and Ireland. Ireland under the old regime had to pay the tax, and of course, in several instances English manufacturers were able to under-sell the American car. Ireland has no interest in automobile manufacturing. There is a factory in the country. The revoking of the tax is expected to be a boon to Americans, as nowadays most traveling in Ireland is done by auto. Nearly all the railroads are out of commission owing to destruction wrought by the republicans.

WOMAN CLAIMANT TO DEMAND SHARE OF KYLE ESTATE

Mrs. L. W. Phillips Writes From San Antonio, Tex., to Chief of Police Drew.

Mrs. L. W. Phillips of San Antonio, Tex., today announced her intention of claiming a share of the estate of Robert Bruce Kyle, Oakland's man of mystery.

In a letter to Chief of Police Jas. T. Drew, Mrs. Phillips set forth that she has been seeking news of Kyle and Alvin Karpis for a number of years without success. She gave no basis for her claim on the estate.

According to Mrs. Phillips, she heard her father speak of the Kyles and their difficulties on numerous occasions and was told that Kyle was in Mexico.

It was not until she read of the account of Kyle's death and the house of mystery in this city and the subsequent tale of Frank S. Pierce, the first claimant to the estate, that she found a clew to the whereabouts of the man she sought.

Chief Drew turned the letter over to Public Administrator Albert E. Hill at the written request of Mrs. Phillips, who stated that she intended to file her claim against the estate in San Antonio.

According to neighbors of Kyle, he said on several occasions that his only relatives were cousins and that he had no direct descendants.

PUBLIC SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS ENDS TOMORROW

Girls Will Join in Distribution of Stickers to Holiday Shoppers.

The public sale of the 1923 Christmas Seals sponsored by the Alameda County Tuberculosis Association closes tomorrow. At strategic points, corps of attractive girls will petition the holiday shoppers to purchase the penny health stickers that will give permanent buildings to Del Valle farm, the prevention for children near Livermore.

Mrs. Richard Lyman has recruited the young women who will bring the two weeks' campaign to its conclusion. At local depots and busy corners, the volunteer saleswomen for the sake of the boys and girls of Alameda county will offer their helpful wares.

The mail campaign instituted by the Tuberculosis Association will be continued throughout the month. A large committee of well-known women assisted by two clerks from the First National Bank is opening an average of 500 or 600 letters daily in the headquarters in the Childs Memorial building. Christmas Seals to the value of $1 were sent every automobile owner in Alameda county. Request is being made that checks to that amount or the seals be returned as rapidly as possible. Proper credit will be given at the tent in the Oakland City Hall Plaza where Mrs. Morris Falk is in charge.

Girls who will give an hour or so of time tomorrow to the cause of little children by distributing Christmas Seals, are invited to report at the tent. Every sucker sold means that so much nearer will a small boy or girl be brought to normal health condition.

Mrs. Wallace A. Alexander has directed the 1923 Christmas Seal sale. Miss Annie Florence Brown is president of the organization sponsoring the children's prevention which will receive the benefit from the campaign.

Engine Company to Increase Output

Increasing its capitalization from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, the Pacific Diesel Engine Company, which has its plant in Oakland, today announced that it will increase its scope of activity, and will undertake the building of stationary Diesel engines for factories and to the present the company has built marine engines only. J. H. Hansen, president of the company, said yesterday:

"As we are extending our activities to the building of stationary engines, we require more working capital. We have several orders for stationary engines, including one for a large Arizona power plant. We have recently shipped several 500 h. p. stationary engines to power plants in Alaska, and we expect to go into new territory in the United States. We shall require additional equipment, and shall employ more men."

Amended incorporation papers were filed by the company today. The increase of stock was decided and voted upon on October 26, the papers declare.

Pupils Conduct Two Christmas Drives

SANTA CRUZ, Dec. 15.—Students of the Santa Cruz high school this week are engaged in two drives to bring Christmas cheer. They have gathered boxes of apples and jars of jam, jellies and fruit, all of which are to be sent to the base hospital at Palo Alto. With each apple and jar of fruit is a message from a student. The apples and all the gifts are wrapped in the Christmas papers. The other drive is for the Salvation Army. Pupils are gathering fruit, groceries and money for this organization to be used by them during the Christmas season. On Friday they plan to present the operetta, "The Bargain Hunter," for the benefit of the fund.

Newman Father Sues To Annul Girl's Ties

MODESTO, Dec. 15.—Annulment Charles H. Kirby and 22-year-old Mildred Elizabeth Newsome of Newman, was sought today by Chief of Police William G. Newman, father of the bride, on the ground that the girl is mentally incompetent.

Kirby met the girl in Golden Gate Park on December 4. They were married a few hours later. In his suit for annulment, Newman set forth that his daughter had recently been paroled from the Alameda County Jail, where she had been undergoing treatment, and that her mind was still unbalanced at the time of her marriage.

Since the marriage the youthful Mrs. Kirby has been living with her mother in San Francisco. Kirby returned to Newman a few hours after the ceremony.

Americanism! Here Is Last Chance for Prizes

Tonight at midnight!

That's the hour at which the opportunity will be gone for school children of the Eastbay district to compete for the three cash prizes of $50, $30 and $20, which the TRIBUNE is offering for the three best 50-word definitions of "Americanism."

Every definition submitted in order to be eligible for one of the prizes, must either be in The TRIBUNE office by that time, or must bear a postmark showing that it was mailed before that hour.

That means that there are still several hours left in which to write out what you think to be the best possible definition of Americanism, and drop it either into a mailbox—or into the postoffice or else bring or send it directly into The TRIBUNE.

HAVE CHANCE TO WIN.
By doing this you will stand as good a chance as anyone of winning one of the three cash prizes. It may be a definition that is not even yet written as you read this that will win the main prize.

Remember, the contest is open to any boy or girl who is in attendance at any of the public schools in the Eastbay district—and that includes the high schools as well as the elementary schools and kindergartens.

If you are one of those eligible to compete, simply write down on a piece of paper what you think is a good definition of "Americanism." In other words, what ought a citizen of this country to be like, in order to be truly an American citizen?

MAKE DEFINITION SHORT.

Give your definition in 50 words or less. Then send it to "The Americanism Contest," Oakland TRIBUNE. That is all you have to do in order to try for the $50 cash prize. The TRIBUNE has offered for the best definition submitted, as well as the $30 and $20 offered for the second and third best.

Selection of the three winning definitions will be made immediately after the close of the contest by the following committee of judges:

Commander Earl E. Brown of Oakland Chapter, No. 7, Disabled American Veterans of the World War; Stanley S. Wood, past adjutant of Oakland Post No. 5, American Legion; and present chairman of the post's Americanism contest committee; Superintendent Fred M. Hunter of the Oakland school department and the Americanization editor of The TRIBUNE.

Arguments Resumed In Antioch Case

Arguments were resumed today in the Antioch water case, being heard by Superior Judge A. F. St. Sure. Attorney John S. Partridge consumed the entire morning with a presentation of legal aspects of the motions to allow additional intervenors and additional defendants in the original suit. Should the motions be granted the suit will definitely settle the riparian water rights on the majority of rivers in northern California. It is considered one of the most important pieces of litigation ever brought before the courts of the state.

Leslie Taylor Will Wed Eastern Girl

An interesting engagement was announced today—the betrothal of Miss Frances Moore of Chicago and Edmund Leslie Taylor of Piedmont.

The engagement of the well-known Bohemian Club man and the Chicago girl was made known to Eastern friends a fortnight ago, but formal announcement was deferred until the bride-elect had returned from a tour of Europe and Egypt.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. George Merritt Moore, who will join her daughter at the Cliff

Hotel in a few days, where they are making their headquarters.

Taylor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edselberta Anderson, whose beauty attracted much attention during her recent tour of Europe, with her husband, Senator Anderson, former consul from Peru to various posts in the United States.

During the stay of Miss Moore and her sister, many social courtesies will be shown them.

The bride's tea for which Mrs. Alfred Paul Otto has sent out cards on Wednesday, December 27, will be one of the elaborate functions of the holiday week. The afternoon is MISS LUCILLE CRAIG of Piedmont who is an Alpha Delta Pi at University of California.—Boyle Photo.

Inspired by the visit of Mrs. Hunter Robbins, who with her two young sons will arrive from the East on Christmas eve to spend a little while with her sister, Mrs. Otto has invited some two score friends to meet her house guest.

A second function already arranged in compliment to Mrs. Robbing is the luncheon over which Miss Eleanor Masters will preside as hostess at the Woman's Athletic Club on the following day.

ess on Wednesday at the first large affair she has given since taking possession of a handsome new home in the Claremont hills overlooking Oakland and the bay. A luncheon followed by bridge will be in a measure answer for the housewarming.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe took possession of the attractive residence a month ago, giving over the late year to making themselves comfortable on the scenic estate.

Something new in an entertainment line which will bring many of the smart set from both sides of the bay together Monday night is announced by Mrs. Carlo Morbio, the former Grace O'Connor, and Mrs. Marion de Guerre Stewart. The two popular young artists collaborating have evolved a charming costume program in which music and drama meet, and which they are calling "Children—a Harlequinade for Grown-ups." The attractive Kohler and Chase hall in San Francisco will afford the setting for the pre-holiday luncheon.

A long line of socially prominent women are adding their names to those who will entertain merry parties of friends at dinner earlier in the evening.

Mrs. Franklin Kales and Mrs. Harry Weihe were hostesses of the week, uniting in entertaining a group of mutual friends at an elaborately appointed luncheon. The Francisco Club in San Francisco was the setting for the December party.

Miss Dorothy Dukes and Miss Helen Ingram will share in the compliment of the luncheon for which Miss Harriet Campbell and Miss Eleanor Campbell are claiming friends tomorrow. The popular sisters will entertain at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. L. Campbell, in Claremont.

The Ralph Fisher residence on Kempton avenue lent itself most picturesquely last night to the wedding of Miss Florence Kirkpatrick and Ralph Nicholson. The bolder colors of the winter season were eliminated in the appointments of the ceremony. Pastel shades predominated in both the decorations and the frothy part of the party which escorted the popular girl to the improvised altar. Chrysanthemums banked everywhere and nodding from great baskets made a floral bower of the reception room.

A spring note was introduced in the gowns of the bevy of close friends who served as bridesmaids. They each wore exquisitely simple frocks of georgette in delicate tones and carried armful of flowers which usually come with the opening February days. Miss Julia Neals, a sorority sister, Miss Ruth Jansen and Miss Leila Hecke were the attending maids. Mrs. Minerva McDonald was the matron of honor.

The bridal gown combined rare lace and white satin and was finished with a train showing knots of orange blossoms. The tulle veil was caught with the sweet-scented blossoms. Orchids, cyclamen and lilacs of the valley were carried in shower form.

Merrill Brown of San Francisco attended Nicholson as best man. The ushers were Stewart Johnson, Cort Majors, Albert Sprout and Edward Jansen.

More than one hundred friends of the young couple and of their families witnessed the nuptial service which was read by Rev. W. E. Vaughan of Alameda.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson are today enjoying a honeymoon whose final destination will be Oakland, where they will establish their home.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nicholson of Piedmont, a pioneer family in the Eastbay. His mother, known in the musical world as Mrs. Lena Carroll Nicholson, is one of the popular singers in this part of the state. Nicholson is a University of California man identified with the Sigma Chi fraternity. The bride graduated from the University of California, where she was active in the Alpha Chi Omega sorority. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kirkpatrick of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Philip E. Bowles, Jr. was a luncheon hostess of the week, entertaining a small party of friends across the bay. In the group were Miss Anne Peters, Mrs. Georges Romanovsky and Mrs. Ellsworth Wille.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Miller and their young daughters are delightfully established in a handsome new home which they have recently purchased in the Claremont district. Mrs. Miller will business some pretty appointed functions later in the season.

Mrs. Edward Lowe will be hostess on Wednesday at the first large affair she has given since taking possession of a handsome new home in the Claremont hills overlooking Oakland and the bay. A luncheon followed by bridge will be in a measure answer for the housewarming.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe took possession of the attractive residence a month ago, giving over the late year to making themselves comfortable on the scenic estate.

DANVILLE POST ELECTIONS. DANVILLE, Dec. 15.—Mount Diablo Post, American Legion, has elected the following officers, who will be installed during January: Commander, Robert Becker; vice-commander, R. Thorpe; adjutant, Tony Cambram; historian, L. A. Stoddard; chaplain, William Tarry; assistant officer, James Root; master of arms, Lawrence Hainburg.

GIRL SHOTS HERSELF. ASTORIA, Ore., Dec. 15.—Verna Lytle, 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. Belle Lytle, a teacher in the public school at Seaside, was found dead in her home today with a bullet wound in the right temple and a revolver beside her on a sofa. The girl shot herself, according to the coroner.

New Century Club Plays Mrs. Santa Claus

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Oakland New Century club played the role of Mrs. Santa Claus today. Fifty-five youngsters who meet in the kindergarten class held in the Fifth and Peralta streets clubhouse tested out the traditions of the genial Kris Kringle, and found that they were true. First, there was a great shining tree to greet their wondering eyes. There was a special treat of goodies. There were bags of candy and nuts and big, rosy apples. There was, of course, a Santa Claus, and finally, there was a doll beautifully robed for each little maid, and a hammer for each small lad.

Down West Oakland way a hammer is the most cherished gift among the boys who are in kindergarten. Many sorts of entertainment and many kinds of useful occupations have their inspiration in the simple tool. Letters to Santa Claus generally put forth the plea of the lads for the hammers while the girls petitioned for dolls. The clubwomen have given over some busy days to dressing the pretty creatures to meet the particular fancy of their small holiday guests.

The role of Mrs. Santa Claus, however, is no annual part assumed by Oakland New Century club women but one which they daily play among those who are neighbors to their attractive community house. Mrs. George Barnes Bird, well known club woman and social worker, as housemother, is their personal representative. Life is so simply lived in the West Oakland district that sometimes a cup of milk stands between its people and death. It was so the other day when Mrs. Bird found a neighbor, aged in years, shut in her home ill and alone. A little care, a simple diet and finally recovery sufficient to learn a daughter's address literally saved a life. The cost to the club treasury was less than $1.

Because the women are so deeply interested in the establishment of a playground in their district, they have granted the use of land adjoining that purchased by the Recreation Department to enlarge the site. A committee has been appointed to secure the use of the clubhouse for showers, lockers and rest rooms.

Mrs. J. W. Brace is president of the interesting organization, the membership of which includes some half hundred or more well known women interested in the task of friendliness to those who reside under the shadow of their clubhouse.

Every woman's club in California is being called upon to discuss the Community Property Bill, prepared by the California Bar Association, to be introduced at the 1923 session of the Legislature, probably by Senator E. P. Sample of San Diego. Mrs. Aaron Schloss of Berkeley, chairman of the Women's Joint Legislative Committee of California, who will lead the campaign on behalf of the measure, is asking that the organizations which have not already familiarized themselves with its provisions give over a program in January to the important piece of proposed legislation. The request is made that every club take some action regarding the community property bill—either by resolution or by letter.

The resolutions may be sent to Mrs. Schloss. Mrs. Frances Wilson Kidd of Berkeley is directing the clubwomen's campaign of support to the bill through Alameda district. C. W. C. C. Officers in attendance upon the directors' meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs scheduled for January 9-11, will remain in the national capital for the session. In the tentative plan Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation, and national president of the Consumers' League, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and League of Women Voters, will be invited to preside at sessions of the industrial conference.

The calling of a national conference on the question of women in industry is being considered by the United States Secretary of Labor, according to an announcement in the latest edition of the General Federation News. The important forum will probably take place during the middle of January in Washington, D. C. Officers in attendance upon the directors' meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs scheduled for January 9-11, will remain in the national capital for the session. In the tentative plan Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation, and national president of the Consumers' League, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and League of Women Voters, will be invited to preside at sessions of the industrial conference.

Judgment Deferred In Compensation Suits

HAYWARD, Dec. 15.—Demands for compensation made against Harry Begier, San Leandro contractor, by Frank C. Angelus, carpenter, and against the firm of Gorman & Willson, local contractors, by Manuel Morreix, laborer, were heard here yesterday by a member of the Compensation and Accident commission. Judgment in both cases was deferred.

PARTY TO ENTERTAIN. WATSONVILLE, Dec. 15.—An entertainment under the personal direction of Miss Loraine Murphy, local dancing teacher, will be the outstanding feature of an old-timers' get-together social meeting under the auspices of Watsonville Parlor, Native Sons, next Wednesday evening. One of the number on this program will be a special "New Years Carnival March Dance" in which Miss Murphy and several of her pupils will appear.

Simple Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Advertisement.

Pioneer Printer of Martinez Drops Dead

MARTINEZ, Dec. 15.—Henry B. and for years secretary of the Contra Costa local of the Typographical Union, dropped dead yesterday afternoon in the composing room of a local newspaper on which he was employed for many years. He was stricken while he was reading a letter from his father, H. A. Jennings, of Saratoga. Employees of the newspaper heard him gasp and fall to the floor. Doctors were called but he died before their arrival. His death is believed to have been due to heart failure.

Jennings was 63 years old and a native of California. Besides his father he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Jennings, and two brothers, John S. Jennings, of Walnut Creek, and Albert Jennings, of Oakland.

Odd Fellows Discuss New Hall at Alvarado

ALVARADO, Dec. 15.—Further topic of business taken up by the Alvarado Odd Fellows at their meeting Tuesday night. F. C. Harvey, J. Emry and H. Bromley are members on a committee looking for a location for the proposed structure. New regalia for the lodge has been received and will probably be used for the first time at the coming initiation.

WOMAN DEAD IN SLOUGH. MARYSVILLE, Dec. 15.—Mrs. Hattie S. Johnson, 58, wife of John M. Johnson, former postmaster at Wheatland, was found dead in a slough in the rear of her home yesterday. She jumped into the water in a fit of despondency, the authorities believe.

BOOZE BREATHS INVITES PUMPS

FOR STOMACHS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—Watch your step. Don't stub your toe or get a splinter in your eye or slip on a banana peel, or do anything that will send you to the emergency hospital.

(These injunctions should be obeyed by all for the next month, but particularly by those who have some private stock or who are bootleggers.)

The tip is given herewith as the result of an order issued by Chief Surgeon Edmund Butler of the Emergency hospital service, that all patients whose breath gives indications of having sampled booze of any kind, even though it may have been only one glass, must have their stomachs pumped out.

The operation of the stomach pump is anything but a pleasant sensation, hence this warning. The mandate of Dr. Butler posted today was the result of notification by Samuel Ruter, chief prohibition officer, that large quantities of poison liquor are being sold in this city.

Knighten Man Hurt In Accident

KNIGHTEN, Dec. 15.—The son of a wealthy family of the Santa Fe at this place, Ed Alcott, narrowly escaped fatal injury this week when he was thrown from his motor car. The occupants of an automobile approaching a railroad crossing failed to observe the approach of the car. In order to avoid a collision Alcott put on the brakes and was thrown from the car. He was badly cut and bruised and rendered unconscious. Dr. F. S. Cook was called and dressed the wounds.

ANNUAL MEET OF FRUIT MEN ENDS

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 15. — The fifty-fifth annual convention of California fruit growers and farmers came to a close yesterday with meetings of county horticultural commissioners for discussion of quarantine problems, pest control and other subjects. A program of proposed agricultural legislation to be submitted to the coming legislature was approved as was the proposed budget of the state department of agriculture.

Outstanding features of the final session of the fruit growers was the adoption of resolutions endorsing the proposed federal shipping bill and urging the federal government to give more attention to western quarantine problems.

Recommendations for state agricultural legislation included an increase in the appropriation for the University Farm school at Davis.

According to R. N. Wilson, the farm school is entitled this year to an increase of $125,000 based on attendance records. An appro-

Mrs. Lincoln Left in Dec. Streets, Her Letters Show

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Two letters, believed to have been written by Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, describing the straitened circumstances of the martyred president's family shortly after his death were produced here yesterday by R. Sherman Fowler, who said he found them recently in a secret panel of an old bookcase, which came to him as an heirloom from his grandfather, Benjamin B. Sherman, a founder of the Union League club. The letters, Fowler said, were written to his grandfather, who was president of the Central Union Trust company and at the time was in charge of a "dollar fund" which collected $10,747 for Lincoln's widow.

The first letter, dated the day after Christmas, 1865, and signed Mary Lincoln, said in part:

"We are homeless, and in return for the sacrifices my great and noble husband made, both in his life and in his death, the paltry first year's salary is offered to us, under the circumstances."

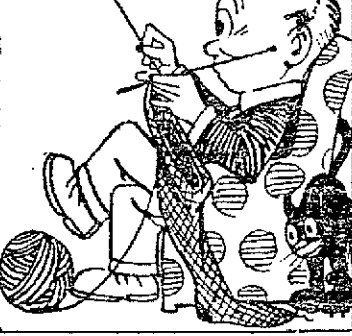

"Such injustice has been done us as calls the blush to any true, loyal heart. The sum is in reality only $20,000, as the first month's salary was paid my husband, and I presume the tax on it will be deducted from it. The interest on it will be about $1500. I am humiliated when I think that we are destined to be forever homeless. I can write no more."

Proration of at least $300,000 will be needed, he said, for pest control and other activities. A million and a half dollars was expended in California last year by the federal department of agriculture, Wilson said.

FREE ACCUSED SYNDICALISTS. — BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 15.—James Seely and Francis J. Fene were freed of the charge of criminal syndicalism by a jury here after four hours' deliberation yesterday. The case was heard in Superior Judge J. W. Mahon's court.

DOPE SUSPECTS IN FILM COLONY ARE UNDER PROBE

Quiet Investigation Started;
Hays Finds Very Little Proof of Scandal.

By ROBERT A. DONALDSON,
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Quiet, private investigation of movie folk alleged to be addicted to drugs, is understood to have been suggested by Will H. Hays, film mentor, in order to head off scandals. (Names of a number of stars are said to have been discovered by New York police in a raid on a drug ring headquarters a few days ago.) Hays told the United Press that his mission in Hollywood is to work constructively from within to purify and better the film game. He said he had found little foundation for tales of scandal in the colony. One prominent movie player who was known to be drinking and was before one of the biggest producers in the colony and taxed with the offense. He vehemently denied using drugs and offered to prove it. The star was examined for marks of the "dope needle." No marks were found. He was then placed in the custody of a physician for three weeks. It was stated. The physician never left him alone for a minute, even sleeping with him. At the end of this time the doctor found the star showed no signs of being an addict.

"I am not interested in conditions in the colony during the last few years, but in conditions today and tomorrow," Hays said. "My aim is to develop the amazing possibilities for good in the movies and in the types of pictures, to such an extent that the bad will be automatically crowded out."

home in the rear, the upstairs back room, the house at the end of the alley or some other such out-of-the-way place, children are writing their last letters to the Blue Bird, because the closing date for such has been set for December 16, asking him to bring Santa to them. The need for help is big and you are urged to make your

There are many families, large and small, waiting for some Goodfellow to play Santa Claus for them on Christmas Eve. In some of the larger families, the "toys" have been taken care of, but there are the older children pleading for a share of the pleasure that their younger sisters and brothers are sure to reap. Get the spirit of the Christmas season and provide for one child at least. If you are not able to do so, send in your contribution, no matter how small, and the Blue Bird will act for you as proxy. The Blue Bird Fund must grow if all the children are to be taken care of.

These families ask you to play Santa to them:

"To the Blue Bird: I have seen your letters in THE TRIBUNE and wish to call your attention to a very needy family. They have two small children, one 4 and one 1½. They have scarcely any bedding or clothes. The father has been out of work for some time, they are very, very much in need of assistance, and I am sure will be glad of your help."

"Dear Blue Bird: Santa Claus, I am a little girl of six years old. You did not come to see us last year and I'm afraid he'll not come again. I have two brothers 13, and a sister 2. We would be glad to get just anything to make it seem like Christmas."

"Dear Blue Bird and Goodfellows: Please send us something for Christmas. We want anything. We have had lots of trouble this year. My little sister has been sick in bed from that Saturday. Papa has been out of work, too, and mamma feels very sad when the children talk about Christmas. There are eight in our family. My brother 13, another brother 12, a brother 10, a sister 9, a sister 8, and my baby sister 2 years old. I am 13 years old also, as my brother and I are twins. Thanking you and wishing you and all the Goodfellows a merry Christmas and a happy New Year."

"Dear Blue Bird: I would be very thankful if you have any blankets or a suit of clothes and shoes that would fit a 16-year-old boy, or girl's shoes and rubbers, size 1 and 5, for a small boy 8. There are 15 in the family, with a small wage and it's oh! such a struggle. I am sure losing heart. There are four going to school who are often home on account of shoes and nothing to protect them from the rains, and every night we all are so cold. Last winter I thought we would freeze. I would not let my little ones put up with another winter like that, but every month has passed and I have not been able to buy the bedding."

Dear children and parents do not forget that Saturday has been fixed as the day of closing and that letters which come in after that date cannot be handled by the Blue Bird. If you fear that Santa may miss you this year be sure to send the Blue Bird today or tomorrow.

saloon at First and Webster streets, made famous by Jack London in his sea stories, was broken into by burglars early today.

The saloon is now a soft drink parlor and is still under the management of Johnny Hendall, who was one of London's oldest friends. Many of London's stories were planned or written in the old saloon.

In the robbery this morning the lock was broken off the door. An investigation of the place was made by the police, but they could not find anything missing.

TUBE OR BRIDGE FOR ESTUARY IS DISCUSSED

Supervisors' Opinions Differ, But They Oppose Delay on Harbor Work.

Recommendations by the Harbor Committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce that a bridge rather than a tube be constructed across the estuary at Webster street brought expressions of opinions from the Alameda county supervisors today, as follows:

Supervisors William J. Hamilton, chairman; "I regret that such an expression has been made by the Chamber of Commerce committee at this time as it seems to be a move to obstruct the tube project without adequate reasons being given. There is nothing to justify the belief that the government will not grant an extension of time in which the tube might be built or that the government will not carry on necessary dredging operations in the estuary. The committee seems to admit that a bridge would only be adequate for ten years. As a bridge will cost about $1,500,000 and a tube can be constructed for $3,000,000 to $4,000,000, it does not seem like economy to construct the bridge."

FAVORS CONSTRUCTION.
Supervisor John F. Mullins: "If delay in bringing about the construction of a tube is going to delay development of the harbor or hinder the development of shipping, then I am in favor of construction of the bridge at the earliest possible time. The committee is wrong in saying the county has sufficient funds to build a bridge, however. We have but $700,000 for that purpose while the bridge will cost over $1,000,000. A bond issue would probably be necessary in order to raise the balance."

Supervisor Redmond C. Staats: "I would advise that any crossing over the estuary is necessary at Webster street. If there is to be one it should be a tube which would not obstruct shipping. It is my belief, however, that a bridge at Park street is sufficient. This is demonstrated by the distance separating bridges over the East River at New York City where the traffic is a great many times heavier than it will be here for many years."

HEYER PREFERS TUBE.
Supervisor Charles Heyer: "I am in favor of a tube rather than a bridge at Webster street. It will be more economical in the long run. The Chamber of Commerce committee should take into consideration that there is not sufficient funds in the county treasury now even to build the bridge and that a bond election would probably be necessary before that could be constructed."

George B. Posey, county engineer: "There is no indication that the necessary delay in constructing a tube will prevent harbor development. I have been informed by Colonel Herbert Deacyne, United States Army Engineer, that the government has let a contract for dredging operations in the estuary and that the work will soon start. The government has not refused to extend the time beyond July 1 next in which to remove the present Webster street bridge. It has been indicated that the government only requires a showing of good faith on the part of the county to construct either a tube or a bridge to secure the required extension of time."

GOLF ENTHUSIAST DIES ON LINKS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—Funeral services for Faxon D. Atherton, stock broker and golf enthusiast, and brother-in-law of Gertrude Atherton, who died yesterday while putting on the fifteenth green at the San Francisco Golf and Country Club, will be held at St. Dominic's church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Atherton was a descendant of a well-known pioneer family of California, and was a son of Faxon D. Atherton, after whom the town of Atherton was named.

For several years past he had lived at the home of his sister, Mrs. Edward E. Byrre of Menlo park, although he also maintained a residence at 2112 Pacific street, Atherton.

For many years, but still retained a membership in the San Francisco Stock Exchange.

Atherton is survived by a son, Faxon D. Atherton Jr., a daughter, Mrs. Olga Atherton of Los Angeles, and a sister, Mrs. Enrique George Atherton, a brother, now deceased, was the husband of Mrs. Gertrude Atherton, widely-known California novelist.

Atherton was playing golf yesterday with O. W. Lillard of 2211 Broderick street when he was stricken. He was taking his stance to putt for the fifteenth hole when he sank on the green. A physician who was hastily summoned by Lillard, pronounced Atherton dead. As a tribute to his memory, fellow members who were playing on the links at the time committed to turn in their scores when after finishing the course they learned of Atherton's death.

She avers that the community property consists of Liberty Bonds worth $500, an automobile, household goods and cash in bank and asks to be given custody of an infant daughter and an allowance for support of herself and child.

ROW OVER FOCH'S APPOINTMENT IS BARED BY BLISS

U. S. Leader During War Tells of Squabbles Preceding Unified Command.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (By the Associated Press).—The story of how Ferdinand Foch became allied generalissimo is told by Major General Tasker H. Bliss, U. S. A., retired, who was America's representative on the supreme council, in an article published by the magazine "Foreign Affairs."

Although he made no direct accusations of "military jealousy" against any individual, the name of Field Marshal Haig of Great Britain, stands out most prominently in his discussion of how all efforts tending toward unity of command were blocked until, on April 3, 1918, with the German forces opening a breach between the French and British fronts, the allied leaders gave Foch the command.

General Bliss said that one of his first acts, after he arrived overseas in November, 1917, was to recommend to President Wilson the creation of a unified command of the armies, "even going if necessary to the limit of unified command."

Political conditions in Europe caused the President to withhold efforts at that time, General Bliss says, the result being that "up to the moment of the crisis the only attempt at unified command—not command—had to be made by the supreme war council."

This council, he continues, decided, after many differences, to create a general reserve for the western front, to be directed by military representatives of the various governments. These representatives comprised the superior war board and Foch was made its president.

But when the superior war board sent letters to the commanders of the various armies asking them to place troops for the general reserve, Marshal Haig replied that conditions on his front made it impossible for him to set aside any troops for the reserve and added that he and General Dethlefsen of the French army already had worked out a joint agreement for supplying each other with reserves in case of emergency.

Subsequent events, General Bliss asserts, proved the futility of the arrangement. The German attack came at the juncture of the French and British forces, precisely, he declares, where every officer had predicted it would come, and British and French commanders both found themselves in such a bad plight that neither was willing to send reserves to aid the other.

Finally, on March 26, he continues, the British and French civil and military authorities, meeting at Doullens, agreed to charge General Foch with coordinating the action of the allied armies on the western front.

It was not until a week later, however, at Doullens, where Generals Pershing and Bliss were also present, that Foch was given "all the powers necessary for effective coordination" of his task of co-ordination.

CURTAIN CALLS

By WOOD SOANES.

THE motion picture has not won the fight against the so-called legitimate theater, as was freely predicted some years ago, but it has made its presence felt in the vaudeville field and it is making the leaders of the speaking stage think.

Within two decades the amusement situation in this city, and that means everywhere else, has undergone a decided change. It was about twenty years ago that Al E. Peck presented the first motion picture in a temporary theater at the northeast corner of Thirteenth street and Broadway.

Some time later Peck moved the scene of his operations to San Pablo avenue, first on the west side and later on the east side, on the site now occupied by Kahn's department store. It was here that Peck operated the Bell theater, later taken over by the Cohn boys.

TWENTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

Arthur Cunningham makes his debut at the Tivoli theater tonight with "The Idol's Eye." Hartman is playing "Abel Conn" and Teddy Webb is "McSnuff."

It is interesting to recall that at this time the motion pictures were simply a novelty, offered in conjunction with a vaudeville bill. They have continued as an added attraction in the vaudeville houses until quite recently, when the Orpheum and the Panjunks followed the policy of the State and began featuring the pictures.

Then came an announcement from Augustus Thomas, czar of things dramatic, that a concerted effort is being made to establish a National theater in this country. The incorporators include representative men of the theater in America and the aims and purposes of the theater are set down in the articles of incorporation as follows:

To improve the interest of the public in the drama as an art, belonging both to literature and to the theater, and therefore to be employed both in the study and on the stage.

To advance the interests of the drama in the United States by furthering the production of the best plays interpreted by the best actors.

To encourage the establishment of a national theater which shall hold up a lofty standard before all other theatrical enterprises.

To stimulate the study of the drama of the present and of the past in our universities, our colleges and our schools.

To organize throughout the United States subsidiary associated groups to further these aims and play over.

That ruling of the musicians' union—making a musical comedy of Mr. Shakespeare's "Hamlet" is going to cause a heap of trouble in the long run. All this talk of orpheus being a scoundrel and Hamlet a low comedian has so befuddled the

LOSS OF STREET

CAR LINE FACED BY SANTA CRUZ

Council Urged to Relieve Traction Company of Cost of Street Paving.

SANTA CRUZ, Dec. 15.—Santa Cruz is confronted by the possibility of losing its city street car service. The Union Traction company will apply to the state railroad commission for permission to abandon its lines according to information presented to the city council by F. M. Garrison, representing the Santa Cruz realty board and the Live Oak district.

Garrison urged the council to take steps to prevent the consummation of this purpose, which he said was based upon complaints of the company over the street paving requirements imposed. Garrison expressed the opinion that the company should be relieved of the expense that would be entailed by the paving.

Reviewing the history of the street railway system in Santa Cruz, W. T. Jeter said loss of the service would be a calamity. He spoke in favor of relief for the company from the burden of paying for the street improvement, and advocated the calling of a special election on a charter amendment proposal, thereby putting the matter before the people. Jeter submitted a copy of the proposed amendment, which he said had been prepared by Attorney J. L. Johnston.

Attorney Johnston, L. Collins, W. E. Davis, F. G. Wilson, C. H. McIsaac and George Rostron also were heard on the subject by the council, which voted for an adjourned meeting for the further discussion of the question.

REBEKAHS ELECT.
SANTA CRUZ, Dec. 15.—Martha Washington lodge of Rebekahs of Soquel has elected officers as follows: Noble grand, Mrs. Winona Gunnison; vice grand, Miss Elsie Prescott; recording secretary, Mrs. Sarah Andrews; financial secretary, Mrs. Lillian Newell; treasurer, Mrs. Mamie Rice.

San Benito Chamber Plans Holiday Party

Benito chamber of commerce has announced it will erect a big community Christmas tree on the court house lawn for the holidays, and from a special fund would see that no poor child anywhere in the country would go without at least one toy and a bag of candy, nuts and fruits this year.

The booster body held its first community tree last year, and it proved such a big success, and the citizens responded so generously to the idea, that it is to be made an annual affair. Dr. J. M. O'Donnell, retiring president of the chamber, and Ben W. Barrett, new president, are the moving spirit in the Yuletide festival. They announce that a few days canvas already see nearly $200 in the fund.

If you see it in THE TRIBUNE tell them so.

Officers Return Two Lads to Orphanage

While patrolling the highway in the Springfield district near this city Traffic Officers John Payton and Amos Beauregard captured two boys, aged about 12 and 16 years, who had escaped from the Saint Francis orphanage, two miles east of here, early Tuesday. The lads were taken to the school and turned over to the authorities of the institution.

Questioned by the officers the boys admitted they left the school without ceremony while a probation officer who had brought them here from Los Angeles was busy in the school office making up their enrollment papers. They declared they slept in a Pullman car on a siding at Watsonville Junction and having eaten nothing since their escape were almost famished when apprehended.

DIEHL'S—469 Fourteenth Street

press agents of things theatrical that they are unable to remember when "Hamlet" is a farce or a light comedy.

And the right to speaking in other offerings of the theater. Take the case of the erudite press agent of the William A. Rusco presentation at the Auditorium theater. The same who writes spiffy items about this or that star who has elected to share in the gross with Rusco at the expense of the local playlover.

FORTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

"The Roman Rye" is in its second week at Haverty's in Chicago. Robert B. Mantell is playing Jack Hearne.

In his announcement of the list of winter attractions booked by Rusco into the Auditorium the foretold press agent concludes his quarter column of news with this gem of mis-information: "and Charles Gilpin, the famous negro comedian in the musical comedy 'Empire Jones' which created a sensation in New York and played an entire year there." Not bad, not bad!

EXITS AND ENTRANCES

George Rand, former stage director at the Fulton, and recently leading man in stock in Dallas, Texas, returns to the local theater on Christmas week for "The Meanest Man in the World," in which Stuart Sage, the new leading man, makes his debut.

Dieter, the accordionist, who is the husband of Ruby Lang, leading woman of the Fulton theater, is coming west over the Keith time, according to word received by his wife.

Margaret and Howard Nugent, one time stock favorites here, are in "The Doorman" in New York, but it is J. Ranken Towse, is right they will not be there long. His review was 83 words in length, and they can be re-printed in full. It read:

"Bunker Bean's famous saying, 'I can imagine nothing of less consequence than a musical comedy.' It is amateurish in construction and dialogue and was played last night in the same manner. As its life is likely to be brief, discussion is unnecessary and the cause of its production will ever be a mystery."

Nana Bryant, replaced by Kathleen Wallace at the Majestic in Los Angeles, comes to the Alhambra.

John Russell has been in the south since leaving Oakland.

Jack Russell has discovered a new singer. He is Albert Lum, a Chicago boy, 12 years old and in the eighth grade at the Lincoln school here. Albert will make his debut next Sunday in "Tutti Frutti."

Athenian-Nile Club Arranges Dinner

The annual custom of the Athenian-Nile Club of giving a Christmas dinner at the clubrooms on Fourteenth street, will be observed next Monday evening. A number of surprise features have been included in the program, as well as several addresses by members of the club. Special readings are to be given by John A. Britton, Robert M. Fitzgerald, Judge F. A. Cutler of Eureka, and Professor George C. Edwards. A special musical program has been arranged under the supervision of Eugene Blanchard, and will be presented by Antonio De Grassi, William Deke, Merville Yater and Fred Anderson.

Wife's Charges For Divorce Denied

Charges made by his wife that he was habitually intoxicated, was once arrested in a Chinese lottery in Seattle, falsely accused her of flirting with a street car conductor and was abusive to her are denied by S. H. Hume. In an answer to the cross-complaint filed by Mrs. Catherine Hume.

To charges of general cruelty

the allegation that she caused him to lose his job as a railroad policeman by attempts to collect his salary. He denies that his wife needs an allowance from him, declaring that three sons, Willis, aged 17, William, 16, and Terry, 14, earn enough to support him.

Husband Denies Cruelty Charges

Denying allegations of cruelty made by his wife, Mrs. Vianna E. Whitehead, in her divorce suit, Benjamin Whitehead, general foreman for a steel company at Pittsburg, charges her with infidelity in an answer and cross-complaint filed in the superior court. Whitehead mentions occasions when his wife, it is alleged, intimately associated with a man in Fresno from September 5 to 12. Whitehead denies that he used profane language to his wife, refused to provide her with sufficient clothing or refused for extended periods to take a bath.

STORE IS HELD UP

Two negroes early last night held George Kambra, proprietor of a small store at 921 Webster street. As they walked into the store they covered the owner with their weapons. One of the men went behind the counter and took $45 from the cash register.

OAKLAND SEEN AS OUTRANKING SAN FRANCISCO

Chamber of Commerce Director Makes Optimistic Forecast.

That Oakland will outrank San Francisco in population and industries, was the prophecy made by Irving H. Kahn, before the Business and Professional Women's Club at its regular meeting yesterday. Kahn, who is a well-known local merchant and director in the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, discussed the "Welding of Oakland."

He said in part: "Oakland is educating a great number of school children that should be educated by San Francisco. If we could have persuaded the 5000 people who live in Oakland and cross to San Francisco every day to go to the polls, Oakland today would have the finest natural park in the world. If the business that goes across the bay would stay in Oakland we would have a far larger and finer financial district, and we would have a great taxable wealth to go into the upbuilding of our institutions."

"The time is coming when Oakland is going to outrank San Francisco in population, and also industrially, if we do what we should do. I do not think we will ever outrank San Francisco financially, but we are going to have here the industry and population which will keep San Francisco supreme on the Pacific Coast as a financial center. Without that development of Oakland, San Francisco surely will be relegated to second place."

Kahn acted as auctioneer for the clubwomen at a holiday sale held during the luncheon for the benefit of the property fund. In charge of the auction were H. L. Kruger, Lavinia Harris, E. A. Dolan, Eloise Cushing, Laura Fahrbach, S. M. Chalmers, F. Myra Cohen, Agnes Christen, Gretchen Herby, Ethel D. Hoy, Louise Sund, Jennie L. Jordan, Marian Keever, M. E. Hennings, Katherine M. Tessel.

Father and Son Face Larceny Charge

residents of Woodland, were arrested late yesterday by Sheriff J. W. Monroe upon a charge of grand larceny against them by E. A. Hunt, of Sacramento. The two men were promptly released upon $2000 bail willingly furnished by their friends, business men of Woodland.

District Attorney C. G. McDonald says that the cause for the warrant arose when the Ruggles failed to pay for a car which they were having repaired in the shop of Hunt in Sacramento. Hunt refused to let the car out of the shop until the $100 repair bill was paid. The Ruggles stated that they had the money at home and invited Hunt to accompany them. When they were well out of the city they started Hunt from the car and rode away. The grand larceny warrants were sworn to before Justice of the Peace R. W. Harrison later.

MARTINEZ BOARD AND WOMEN BUY CITY HOUSEBOAT

Trustees Appropriate $210 to Insure Consummation of Undertaking.

MARTINEZ, Dec. 15.—A municipally owned houseboat that will be put to use during the summer as a bathhouse for children and women is a reality today as the result of the board of trustees voting an appropriation of $210 to cover debts contracted by Martinez women who had obligated themselves to purchase the boat.

Through entertainments women of the city, desirous of providing a suitable place for use as a bathhouse, raised $1000 that they expended in purchase of the boat. An additional obligation of $210 was assumed for refurbishing the boat, but funds were exhausted. When it appeared that workmen would place a lien on it an appeal was made to the trustees to assume the obligation, with the understanding that the boat would be deeded to the city. The trustees intend fitting it up anew for use next summer.

The assessment warrant and diagram covering paving recently completed in the district south of Main street and west of Smith street was adopted.

Request of James T. Sayles for an extension of 90 days for completion of the Jones corner contract was allowed. The contract is completed and the extension was granted merely to protect the bonds.

Seven residents on Warren street petitioned the board to order construction of two blocks of sidewalk on that street west of Smith street. The petition was referred to T. D. Johnston, street commissioner.

Carl Bickel, electrical inspector, and Fred Upham, building inspector, requested and secured permission of the board to have instruction covering their work and orders printed, so there will be no misunderstanding of their authority or work in conducting inspections.

THOSE HIDDEN STORES.

Clemenceau has gone. From the ship which is taking him to France he sends out a wireless advising his country do not seize from Germany the great Ruhr district. In a few days he will back in the fray, back to make the most of a situation his message has brought about.
He has learned, here, more than he imparted.

The visit of the old French statesman to this country has been, in some respects, bewildering.
We were glad to welcome him and rec-tiferous in our greetings. The "Tiger" appeared to us as a few men more, and we did our best to make his visit pleasant. Yet we find it difficult to account for the things he said.

Clemenceau read a list of figures and dates to prove that Germany is hiding away great stores of war material, and told his American audiences the manufacturing of great guns was going on in secret all over Germany. He asked this country if it could not read and understand the danger in which France is placed.

When we read, what do we find? General
Sir Francis R. Bingham, chief of the interallied military control commission which has been given the duty to see that the conditions of the Versailles Treaty regarding arms and munitions are observed, has reported:

"There are unquestionably small arms and ammunition hidden in Germany, but these stocks are insignificant compared with the stocks being destroyed. My personal opinion is that Germany really has been combed of all war supplies worth mentioning."

If Clemenceau is right General Bingham is wrong. And if General Bingham is wrong there is something radically the matter with the whole interallied control commission. Considering there are so many ways to check up on the subject and the fact that cannon may not be made surreptitiously, like moonshine, it is more likely the "Tiger" has been carried too far by his own eloquence.

MAKE CHRISTMAS SAFE.

The cotton which decorates the Christmas tree and gives the appearance of snow, the same cotton which may perform service as the beard of Santa Claus, is highly inflammable.
Those who give to the holiday celebration all of the old-time observance and place the flickering candles on the evergreen boughs, are taking a risk.

This is an attempt to rob the day of any detail for happiness nor is it an argument against any of the things which have added to the tradition. There is timeliness, though, in the warning to be careful of candles and cotton, to be certain the wiring for the electric lights on the tree is correct and to guard in every way against the possibility of having celebration into mourning.

The Christmas season brings the heaviest fire hazards. It is a time when boxes and packages are opened, when the wrappings are tossed carelessly aside in the excitement of uncovering the content. That is why the heartless statisticians have a story to tell each year of homes burned, amateur Santa Clauses singed, and of large losses to life and property. It is not too early for each man to study the plans which are made for the Christmas in his home and to apply to them common sense rules to prevent accident.

FLEET REORGANIZATION.

Before the Panama Canal was built the United States possessed two fleets, a powerful one in the Atlantic and one of much less importance in the Pacific. Attention of naval experts was given exclusively to the Atlantic situation. Somewhere over those waters lurked the imaginary enemy against whom the strategic battles were fought. It was the highest honor to be in command of the Atlantic fleet.

With the close of the world war and the completion of the canal, things are different.
Now the imaginary enemy is in the Pacific and the navy experts say the next war, if there is to be one, will be fought in these waters. The canal has united the fleet, so there is to be no Atlantic and Pacific fleets. Instead the United States fleet has taken the seas one fleet under one commander, Admiral H. P. Jones, with Vice Admiral E. W. Eberle serving under him as commander of the battle fleet unit.

The fleet reorganization also calls for a scouting fleet to be commanded by Vice Admiral J. D. McDonald and a control force to support the operations of the fighting fleet under Rear Admiral N. A. McCully. The fleet base force, composed of mine, destroyer and aircraft squadrons, will be commanded by Rear Admiral J. V. Chase.

This fleet reorganization is a large step toward recognition of the Pacific as the bone of the greatest number of the nation's battleships.
The next step will be the adequate bases, deepening of channels and the establishment of San Francisco Bay as the main base.

TO ENCOURAGE SHIPPING.

When the buyer in Japan, or any other country, orders goods in this country he specifies how it shall be shipped and the ships of his country carry it across the waters. When Americans purchase in Japan, for instance, they seldom concern themselves with this detail and, once more, it is the ship of the other country that profits in the transaction.

There is a ship subsidy bill before Congress and there are various programs and suggestions for bringing the American flag back to the seas. Most of these suggestions require legislative action, the repeal of existing laws or the making of new ones. In this matter of specifying that American ships carry goods ordered by Americans, no action of Congress or commission is required. It is an action of common-sense and Americanism.

Guy W. Wolf spoke to the Rotary Club this week on ship subsidy and the merchant marine. He pointed out that more than a subsidy is needed before this country may compete equally with the fleets of other nations and offered, among other suggestions, the one outlined above. This means shipments should be specified as delivered at "shipside" and the American buyer or seller, just as foreign buyers and sellers are now doing, should make his voice heard in the interests of his country's shipping industry.

FOREIGN-TRADE ZONES.

Those who have been interested in establishing in Oakland Harbor a foreign-trade zone find material for encouragement in the recommendation of Secretary Hoover for legislation for such zones in this country.

"Foreign-trade zones in the ports of the United States," the Secretary of Commerce says, "have long been urged by trade and official bodies as a measure of benefit to American commerce, as they eliminate waste of time, labor and money in the importation of raw materials which are to be re-exported after manufacture in conjunction with domestic materials, and of goods to be repacked and re-shipped for distribution in foreign countries." Such zone areas, Mr. Hoover says, would be an excellent substitute for the present system of bonded warehouses and would afford much more economical handling. In addition, and this is the most important purpose, they would contribute to the merchant marine in increasing the volume of carriage in American bottoms.

Duels are forbidden in this country, and in many countries, but account must be taken of how it is in Uruguay. That country has a law regulating affairs of honor, and a recent meeting to which the president was a party was held after a tribunal had considered the matter and decided that the president, Dr. Drum, was justified in demanding satisfaction of Dr.
Herrera, who was defeated for the presidency at the recent election, and who made invidious remarks about the successful candidate. All of which is interesting as illustrating how different it is in Uruguay. Perhaps the fact that neither of the duellists was injured is a superfluous detail.

Interest was promoted in the impeachment proceedings of Attorney-General Daugherty by letters of former Attorney-General Wickersham to Chief Justice Taft, written when the latter was President; but now there is increased interest by the disclosure that Senator Johnson recommended the appointment of Burns as chief of the Bureau of Investigation. It will be remembered that the California graft proceeding circled very considerably around developments turned up by Burns, and from the senator's connection with that era of litigation his connection with this matter may be understood.

It is explained that Mustapha Kemal will not permit Constantinople to become Renoized, not because of the general reason that it would be a reproach in the sense that unbelievers regard it, but because it is not desired that the faithful shall have the tranquility of their harem disturbed by those who profess monoteism but lightly throw off one wife to take on another. There is a subtle sarcasm here that Americans, who are rather quick to appreciate a point even when it is against them, will recognize. The polygamous Turk is afraid of his morals being tainted by the monogamous Christian.

Dr. Emile Coue says that to heal yourself by autosuggestion you must use your imagination but not will power. But it takes an effort of the will for us to start our imagination going and keep it consistently on the job.

Some persons are so suspicious
We crowd a small lawn with rye this fall, preparatory to sowing it with grass seed next spring. One of the neighbors looked at the sprouting rye and remarked:
"What is the process of distilling whisky from rye, anyhow?"
As the author of "The Old Soak"
we suppose we are under suspicion
... and we haven't had an honest-to-goodness drink for more than three years! Mr. Henry Beresford, who plays the leading part in the play, is equally temperate, and Mr.
Robert O'Connor, who plays Al-
Bertard, doesn't drink at all.

The Old Soak, as a character, had been kicking around in newspaper columns for a year or two before it ever occurred to us to build a play around him. It is not autobiography. The first suggestion that there was a play in the thing came from Mr. John D. Williams, the theatrical producer. He wanted us to do it for him, and we said we might do so, but we neglected it.
Then Mr. Henry E. Dixey, the veteran actor, made a similar suggestion. ... and again we neglected it.
Then Mr. Philip Goodman came along with the same notion and bought the play on faith, unwritten, and we could no longer neglect it. It was Mr. Goodman who suggested to us that it should be a traditional old-fashioned sort of thing, roughly speaking, of the Rip Van Winkle genre. Then we built the thing, such as it is, and then Mr. Goodman sold a half interest to Mr. Arthur Hopkins, the producer, who ironed out of it with his strong right hand a number of structural awkwardnesses which it contained. At least a dozen persons made suggestions of one sort or another, most of which were discarded by Mr. Hopkins or myself.

So many critics have pointed out what they consider to be the weakness of the plot, as a plot, that we are making occasion to assume as our own such quality as there is in this respect. Nobody is responsible for the thing or the original situation, but, ourselves.
But it is not an autobiography, we repeat.

plot is a pretty good plot. ... but if the critics say it isn't, we cannot conscientiously sidestep.
But all we started out to say when we got steered off into this digression is that since the play has been produced it is almost impossible to convince a large number of our friends and acquaintances that the story is not an autobiography in its nature. They think we must be passing our life in a state of suspense. Alas! if this were only true! If it only could be true!

The terrible fact is that, physically, we can't stand hard liquor.
Our sympathy with it is sentimental, moral and spiritual. It is a matter of yearning and a matter of principle. Whenever we have tried, for several years, to take a drink from our actual physical person, it tears the Dickens out of us. We can't do it.

The Old Soak is a kind of psychic relief. He represents an ambition of ours, an aspiration, which we are unable to reach in our proper person. He is a projection of the spirit, not a replica of the flesh.
He is the better part of our nature, in form and flesh. He is what we would have been if we were not hampered with these humiliating material limitations.

But we suppose there are persons who will continue to believe that
"The Old Soak" is us to the life.
"What," said our neighbor, cocking a wise eye at our little rye patch,
"what is the process of distilling

EXCERPTS from the NATIONAL PRESS

Seattle Times: "President Harding has let it be known that the proposals of the Progressive bloc in the Senate to amend the Federal Constitution to provide for the election of President and Vice-President by direct vote will have no help from the administration. And the President sees no good reason for changing the Constitution to permit Congress to meet in January following its election. The interim between November and December of the following year, he believes, gives zealous Congressmen an opportunity to cool off and get a better perspective."

Kansas City Star: "Is General
Pershing to become a second Lord Roberts, going up and down the land warning the nation of the need of reasonable preparedness, and finding his warning unheeded? He spoke in St. Louis yesterday on the danger of reducing the army to the vanishing point, as we have done.
He has repeated the same warning time and again. But people show little interest, and their feeling is reflected in Congress. Yet we all know that it took us a year to get troops ready to go to France in the last war."

New York Herald: "The esteemed Weather Bureau of the United States Government might do its part for the conservation of sound English if instead of prognosticating 'unsettled, with probably showers,' it would prognosticate
'unsettled, probably with showers.'
It is a little thing, but it would count. There are many kinds of showers, but never was there a probably shower; that is, within the memory of the oldest inhabitant."

Chicago Tribune: "Isadora Duncan, dancer, today (December 5) declared she has just accepted the invitation of the Rev. William Norman Guthrie, pastor of St.
Mark's Episcopal church, New York, to preach and dance in his church Christmas eve. Isadora said she will do her esthetic dance to the music of the pipe organ, and she will deliver a sermon on 'The Moralizing Effect of Dancing on the Human Soul.'"

Chicago News: "A word of advice to Secretary Hughes, who hopes to persuade Salvador, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Nicaragua and Honduras to turn their armies into police forces. If the secretary is wise he will not mention plainclothes men. Guns may be dispensable, but uniforms are essential to the Latin-American temperament."

CHARACTER.
Build it well and build it straight.
Strong enough to buffet fate.
Staunch enough to bear the blow
Life compels us all to know:
Have it rugged, have it clean,
Nowhere false and nowhere mean.
Whatever be your post,
Make your character your boast.

Build your character to be Fit for every eye to see;
Never let some secret sin

Who must hide what he may know.
But who keeps his record true
Has no foe who may pursue.

Spite of loss or spite of gain,
Let your character remain
Free from blemish, free from guile;
Let it sing and dance and smile,
Keep it cheerful, keep it kind,
Dig of heart and broad of mind.
Then, whatever may befall,
You may triumph over all.

Geological Survey

Explorations for potash, investigations and explorations of present and possible oil and gas fields, of coal fields, and of ore deposits and mining districts, paleontologic researches, work in chemistry and physics, and investigations of surface and underground water resources are among the year's activities of the United States Geological Survey as mentioned in the annual report of the director, just made public. The number of employees in the Geological Survey holding regular appointments was 877; most of them are field men whose varied work rambles last every state, in addition to Alaska and other outlying territory of the United States. Besides these a small host of temporary camp field men were employed—roadmen, teamsters, cooks, etc. Some of the most important things that the Geological Survey has to show for its work are geologic surveys which cover a wide scope of practical and scientific activity, embracing thirty-two states; topographic mapping in twenty-one states covering 13-544 square miles and including more than 5000 miles of levels and primary traverse lines; more than 11,000 measurements of stream flow in thirty-one states and investigations of underground waters in ten states.

The survey also acted to more than 25,000 cases referred to it in connection with the administration of the public lands; and made a decrease of 8,914,000 acres in outstanding government coal reserves, of 110,000 acres in outstanding petroleum reserves and of 298,000 acres in phosphate reserves. There was, however, a net increase of 268,000 acres in the area classified as phosphate land. The present acreage classified and reserved by the government as coal, petroleum, oil-shale and phosphate lands are:
Coal, 65,000,000; petroleum, 8-500,000; oil-shale, 4,100,000; phosphate, 2,700,000. The survey also made a net increase of 655,000 acres in power-site reserves, designated 382,000 acres in Nevada under the ground-water reclamation act and made net increases of 5190 acres in public water reserves, of 2,953,000 acres in enlarged homestead designations and of 4,775,000 acres in stock-raising homestead designations. The Washington office distributed 602,000 copies of book publications and 695,000 maps, of which 562,000 maps were sold.

The Geological Survey is a scientific bureau which has to do with the mineral resources of the earth rather than with men. Therefore it is known to be comparatively few, for to most people its reports seem to lack human interest.
The work of its large topographic force, for instance, is recorded in lines on paper—maps—which do not tend themselves especially well to columns in the newspapers.
Where the Geological Survey leaves off others take hold. Thus the geologist may carefully explore and outline on a map the structure of an oil field, and so advise the oil cater where or where not to drill;
yet little public interest attaches to the region until the oil man sets up his rig and begins to drill. So it is with all the work of the organization; it is basic, foundation work, upon which many kinds of development may rest later, after the Geological Survey has moved on to new fields of investigation.

An example of the forward-looking policy of the Geological Survey is seen in its anticipation last winter of the coal strike, when as a measure of preparedness, in cooperation with the census, it made an inventory of the amount of coal stored in the United States, and also prepared and published a map of the United States showing the coal mining districts.

The work of the Geological Survey in connection with oil, says the director, continues to be of increasing value, and the application of geology to practical affairs is shown by the fact that in four oil fields that have been extensively developed the early geologic mapping indicated the existence of oil in the ground, which was later proved by commercial development. Other activities of the Geological Survey included examination of deposits of oil shale in four states; comprehensive studies of the Colorado and San Juan rivers in Utah and Arizona with reference to reservoir sites; the completion of studies of radium-bearing carnotite ores and tungsten deposits in the United States.

preparation of timely reports on the production of coal and other fuels; making nearly 2000 detailed analyses of rocks and minerals and 700 analyses of surface and underground waters; the preparation of special physical and shaded relief maps of Alaska, California, Kentucky and several other areas; continuation of the preparation of the United States portion of the international map of the world, for which maps of forty-six states have now been completed and are on sale at nominal prices; the preparation of monthly reports on the production of electricity and consumption of fuel by public-utility power plants and the publication of maps of fourteen states showing the location of power sites and transmission lines. These in common with all the 3000 or more different maps of the Geological Survey are for sale at nominal prices.

COURT FREES KENDRICK OF CHILD'S CARE

Ruling Declares One Parent Not Liable For Support If Spouse Is Adequately Providing For Youngster

Criminal charges against a number of Alameda county men accused of failure to provide for minor children, are to be dismissed in the local courts, it was announced today, as the result of the decision rendered in the Appellate Court yesterday in the case of Rodney Kendrick, newspaper artist, to the effect that one parent cannot be held criminally liable for non-support of a child that is being supported by the other parent.

Plans to seek an amendment to the law, so that this interpretation can no longer be placed upon it, were announced today by members of the Alameda county bench, and the district attorney's office.

TO SEEK AMENDMENT. District Attorney Ezra Decoto today declared that the decision rendered by the Appellate Court yesterday shows such an amendment to be vitally necessary.

"Apparently the only way to find a father liable for the support of his children, under the present law, is, first, to have the mother incapacitated for remunerative work, and, second, to allow the children to starve. If that is the law, and the higher courts have said it is, the sooner we amend it the better."

IN "LOVE TRIANGLE." Kendrick recently was named in a "love triangle" involving Mrs. Edith Spreckels Wakefield and was charged by his wife, Nellie Kendrick, with having failed to provide for his minor child. Pointing out that the evidence showed that, although Kendrick had failed to support the child, Mrs. Kendrick had done so, the court ordered Kendrick freed, on the ground that the section of the penal code holding a mother or father criminally liable for support of a minor child, cannot be enforced if the child is being adequately supported by the other parent.

As a result of this decision, Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church will instruct the jury in the case against Charles T. Williams, now on trial in the local courts, to bring in a verdict of "not guilty," he said today.

Charges now pending against Carl Strane and A. E. Doran probably will be disposed of in the same way, it was said today.

WAGS USE RED DYE FOR HOAX AT LOS GATOS

LOS GATOS, Dec. 15.—Los Gatos went through all the thrills of a Los Angeles style murder mystery today.

A shot was heard during the early morning near the Bunker Hill school house. Citizens, rushing out with flashlights, were horrified to find a handful of bloodstained hair from a woman's head, signs of a struggle, and three tracks unmistakably showing some heavy object had been dragged to the banks of a nearby creek.

The "blood stains" were analyzed and found to be high grade dye.

And further investigation showed Los Gatos had some playful boys who desired to thrill the community.

Insurance Brokers To Hold Conference

Insurance agents and brokers residing in and near Oakland will meet at the Hotel Oakland next Monday at 2:30 o'clock to meet J. H. Shively, secretary and manager of the Insurance Federation of California. Shively will address the meeting on subjects of general importance to agents and brokers. He will be in charge of the federation's activities during the coming session of the State Legislature.

Monday's meeting will be the first of a series of similar meetings to be held in cities in this section of the state within the next three weeks.

San Leandro Plans Letterman Visit

SAN LEANDRO, Dec. 15.—With the aid of covered bodies, with attached cards bearing the request to contribute to the cause, members of the San Leandro Ladies' Auxiliary are making first preparations for a letterman visit.

Cheer Fund! With which gifts, smokes and the more delicate edibles will be supplied wounded and disabled soldiers at Letterman General Hospital. The containers have been placed prominently in all stores and places of business in San Leandro. Present indications point to material assistance being received in this manner.

One of the hospital wards has been designated for a visit of the local women and a large number of well filled baskets will be contributed to Letterman next week by several auxiliary members. It is planned also to formally adopt one of the soldier wards for regular visits and gifts of magazines and food.

Third Car in Week Wrecked On Bridge

SAN LEANDRO, Dec. 15.—The third accident within a week on the San Leandro bridge at East Fourteenth street occurred last night when a machine driven by A. E. McDonald, 2113 Oakley-ninth avenue, Oakland, struck a power pole and was badly smashed. The driver received slight lacerations and bruises.

Removal of the pole against which the three automobiles have been dashed, and installation of a warning red light at the corner of the bridge will be requested.

Leaders Nominated By Y. M. I. Council

RICHMOND, Dec. 15.—Burke Council of Y. M. I. made final nominations for officers at last night's regular meeting. Officers will be elected at the December 28 meeting in Pythian Castle.

The order will hold a whist party on Wednesday evening, December 20, in Pythian Castle. The committee of arrangements consists of John Fitzgerald, Barney Clark, Michael Corr, Christopher Corr, James Housnell and John P. Doyle.

WRIGHT ACT NIGHT COURT SUGGESTED

Police Judge E. J. Tyrrell Offers to Work Nights to Handle State Dry Cases; No Decision Is Reached

The maintenance of a night police court in Oakland, if necessary, was offered last night by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell to the district attorney and other city and county officers, gathered informally in Commissioner Frank Colbourn's office to discuss the methods for best enforcing the Wright act.

The meeting was at the request of Chief of Police James T. Drew, who had suggested simultaneous action by city and county officers in their methods of handling the job.

Those present included Commissioner Frank Colbourn, District Attorney Ezra Decoto, Police Judges E. J. Tyrrell and Mortimer Smith, and Police Chief Drew.

The question of night work for police judges was among the most important to come up. It was argued that continuous prosecution means continuous work for the police courts, though it was admitted that there are no funds to start another police judgeship, and no authority for such a move. Tyrrell then volunteered to work nights if necessary. No final decision was made.

District Attorney Decoto proposed to study the law and find exactly its intent and purpose, so that all court procedures will be regular and uniform.

Commissioner Colbourn pledged that "every man in the police department will enforce the law."

It was agreed that in matters such as the enforcement of this anti-liquor law, there is bound to be certain effort directed toward tampering with evidence. The conference agreed that this is one of the most vital questions in the whole enforcement of the law, and all agreed upon the following measures, to be rigidly adhered to:

To take extreme care of evidence to see that as few persons as possible handle the evidence; to see that the evidence is closely guarded before going to court, and as closely guarded in court; to see that the evidence is destroyed immediately after the court session ends.

The "evidence," it is admitted, will consist of bottled and case goods in almost every instance.

The observance of Chanukah, which was opened at Temple Sinai last night with the ancient ceremony of lighting a candle which will burn throughout the eight days of the "Feast of Dedication," will be continued this evening, when another candle will be added and a special sermon will be delivered at the service by Rabbi Rudolph I. Coffee on the theme, "Carry On."

One candle will be added to the group each day until on the last day of the feast eight candles will be burning. This is in observance of the ancient custom when in A. D. 165 the Jews defeated a powerful force of the enemy and rededicated the temple at Jerusalem.

In his sermon tonight Rabbi Coffee will make an earnest appeal to the Jewish people to be loyal to

OAKLAND GIRL RESCUED FROM PALERMO SHACK

Word has just been received here from Oroville that Babe McIntock, a 17-year-old Oakland girl, has been taken to the Butte county Detention Home, following her rescue in Palermo, where she is said to have been held prisoner by a man who had lured her away from home by promises of marriage.

Neighbors in Palermo reported that she was held prisoner. Investigation of the case and the girl living in a lonely shack there. According to neighbors, they heard evidences that the child had been beaten by her captor. The girl's parents have asked to have their daughter brought back to Oakland.

THIS PEER LIKES SPEED.
LONDON, Dec. 16.—When Lord Tolleremache was fined at Shoreham for speeding it was stated that he had already been convicted eleven times of motoring offenses.

On Sunday afternoon, December 24, Temple Sinai will have an entertainment for the children. A program is being prepared for the occasion to which all have been extended a cordial invitation.

SPILLED COAL

DRIVERS STRIVE TO RECOVER IT

SHADYSIDE, Dec. 16.—The 700 employees of the Webb mine, the largest in Ohio, went on strike recently due to a peculiar situation. The men claimed that 24 cars of coal were wrecked in the mine. The company refused to pay the men for their work as a result.

Benjamin Rose, of this place, was slightly hurt when the cars were derailed in an entry. The loaders receive pay for the coal based on weights obtained when it is weighed on a tipple outside the mine.

Still Confiscated; Woman Arrested

The police last night arrested Mrs. Georgiana Sousa, of 2126 East 13th, for bootlegging. The officers found her and a twenty-five gallon still alone in the house. The confiscated still, Mrs. Sousa was ordered released on her own recognizance by United States Commissioner Albert M. Hardie.

A ten-gallon still was seized when the dry squad raided a house at 1303 Sixty-ninth street.

Chief Ordered to Inspect Fire Plugs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Fire-plug season faded out with the passing of summer and fire-side stories now are in vogue. Here's one.

Chief Watson, of the District of Columbia, who vouches for the truth of the story but discreetly withholds the identity of those concerned.

One night recently the fire department of a town near Washington responded to an alarm for a rather serious fire. Upon arriving at the scene of the blaze several fire plugs were found to be out of order, resulting in a fifteen-minute delay in getting the flames under control.

The town council then considered the fire-plug question. Following then an hour's deliberation.

With a profound solemnity befitting the occasion the council passed a resolution directing the fire chief to inspect every plug two hours before a fire so see that it was in good shape.

High School Officials Ban Booze at Parties

Either liquor or high school class parties must go.

That is the edict of Principal Albert Tuttle, of Hornell High School. The ultimatum of Professor Tuttle follows the educational authorities' discovery that at a recent high school junior-senior class party, not a few of the youths indulged in too much illicit booze. The prevalence of drinking among local boys and girls is claimed to be alarming and has resulted in the closing of one public hall.

GOVERNORS TO SINESTEP ALL ACTION ON KLAN

Heated Session Decides Not to Go On Record As to Ku Klux, Prohibition.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Dec. 15.—(By International News Service.)—With the members of the governors' conference still agitated today from a heated midnight debate on the Ku Klux Klan, the session of the conference was adjourned at 11 p. m. without action on the Klan or prohibition.

The debate, which furnished the conference with its first touch of excitement, followed a sweeping declaration of the plan by Governor Ben Olcott of Oregon, and centered on an address made at the close of the afternoon session by Governor Parker of Louisiana, in which he called on his fellow governors to put themselves squarely on record against the "invisible empire" and declared prohibition "a barefaced lie."

The hour of midnight had struck before the discussion opened. Governor Cameron Morrison of North Carolina, interrupted Governor Parker's statement as a challenge to him, himself, and the other governors present to declare themselves on the Ku Klux Klan. He objected to this and to Governor Parker's attack on prohibition. He stated he was not defending the Klan.

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 15.—With a declaration that a mass meeting against alleged Ku Klux Klan lawlessness will be held even if he attends alone, Robert L. Woodruff, local merchant, early today completed final arrangements for the session to be held today which has for its purpose the adoption of a resolution declaring Barrow county citizens for preservation of law and order.

Citizens from all sections of the south were attending here, presumably to attend the meeting which is scheduled in the Barrow county court house, while in all of Georgia interest has been aroused over the strained relations between Woodruff and the local Ku Klux Klan chapter.

Adjutant General Hope of the Georgia national guard arrived here today, having been sent by Governor Thomas W. Hardwick to make an effort to prevent trouble between Woodruff and the Klan.

An eleven hour warning was received by Woodruff not to attend the meeting. He declared he would not pay any attention to this or any other warning he has received.

The last grand jury of which Woodruff was foreman was instructed by the Barrow county court to investigate the reason for the prejudice in certain sections of the county caused by activities of masked men.

The board of park directors are willing to pay for it by the district assessment plan.

Two soft-drink licenses were revoked and sold to the city of Oakland. The two were for Tony Jardine at 1550 Fifth street, and Andrew Barnes at 1766 Seventh.

PIEDMONT, Dec. 15.—Confidence was expressed by Superintendent of Schools J. W. Jones that today's school bond election, at 11 a. m., would be made a success.

Work on the proposed Junior High School will be begun at once if the bond issue is passed. This school, according to present plans,

"EVERYTHING WAS FRAMED ON ME" SAYS BILL KLEPPER

AMERICAN AND NATIONAL LEAGUE CLUB MOGULS CLOSE TAMEST MEETING IN MANY YEARS

OUTLAWED OFFICIAL OF PORTLAND TEAM VISITOR IN OAKLAND

"Member of National Board Protested Against My Being Given a Hearing On Tacoma Club Matter at Meeting"—W. H. Klepper

By EDDIE MURPHY.

William Klepper, part owner of the Portland Baseball Club undoubtedly will stick to his position that President William H. McCarthy of the Pacific Coast League, and Charles "Doc" Strub and Alfey Putnam of the San Francisco Seals were responsible for him being barred from baseball by the National board association. The Northwest prexy was a visitor in Oakland yesterday, and before leaving for home, he made a long speech about the deal he claims he was handed at Louisville. Klepper claims that McCarthy is not so much to blame as some others. He says, however, he cannot be made to believe that everything was not pre-arranged in order to have him run out of baseball forever.

Following is a statement by Klepper before he left here yesterday:

"It is too bad that the baseball public is not given the real news of what really happened at the meeting and why I was barred for life. I know that President McCarthy in company with Charles Strub and Alfey Putnam of the Seals made the trip east together, and that they were in company with a member of the National Board and owners of the San Francisco Club. I have been against me, since I was the one who was responsible for seventeen ballots being cast before McCarthy was elected President.

Klepper Says It Was Framed Up On Him.

"I am not a member of the National Board, and I have no right to sit at the meeting in which my case was discussed. He is the representative for the league which I belonged to, and it is printed in the rules that all board officials representing the league, of which the accused is interested, cannot be in the meeting room. However, they granted McCarthy special permission, thereby breaking the rules. What was McCarthy's reason for wanting to remain in the meeting room, if he was not interested in the case? They railroaded me out of baseball and it was all pre-arranged."

Tacoma Club Matter Explained by Klepper.

"I really did not think the Tacoma matter was anything at all, and when my attorney, G. C. Mosher, informed me that I was barred for life, I nearly dropped dead with surprise. For I really did not know what it was all about. "I am supposed to be ruled out because I filed a false financial statement in regard to the Tacoma club. There is no rule binding me to file such a statement, but I did it so that Farrell would have it on record. When the Tacoma club was being reorganized, I represented the Portland club, offered to put up $4500 and have some big men at Tacoma put up $4500. The Portland owners and the Tacoma people signed the agreement, although the money had not been placed by either side. We soon afterward paid our share. When the blowup at Tacoma came, we learned that the fact had fallen short $1500 of having their share up. However, we made up the difference and even paid the back salaries of the ballplayers, including $500 due Manager Tony Raymond. Myself and others interested in the Portland club more than lived up to our agreement with the Tacoma people, but because we did not have the agreement, they used that technicality as a means of getting me."

"Club Owners Did Not Pass Me Up," Klepper.

"They were out to get me, and now that they have put me on the blacklist, I understand forever. I hope the parties are satisfied. However, the time is coming, and then get even."

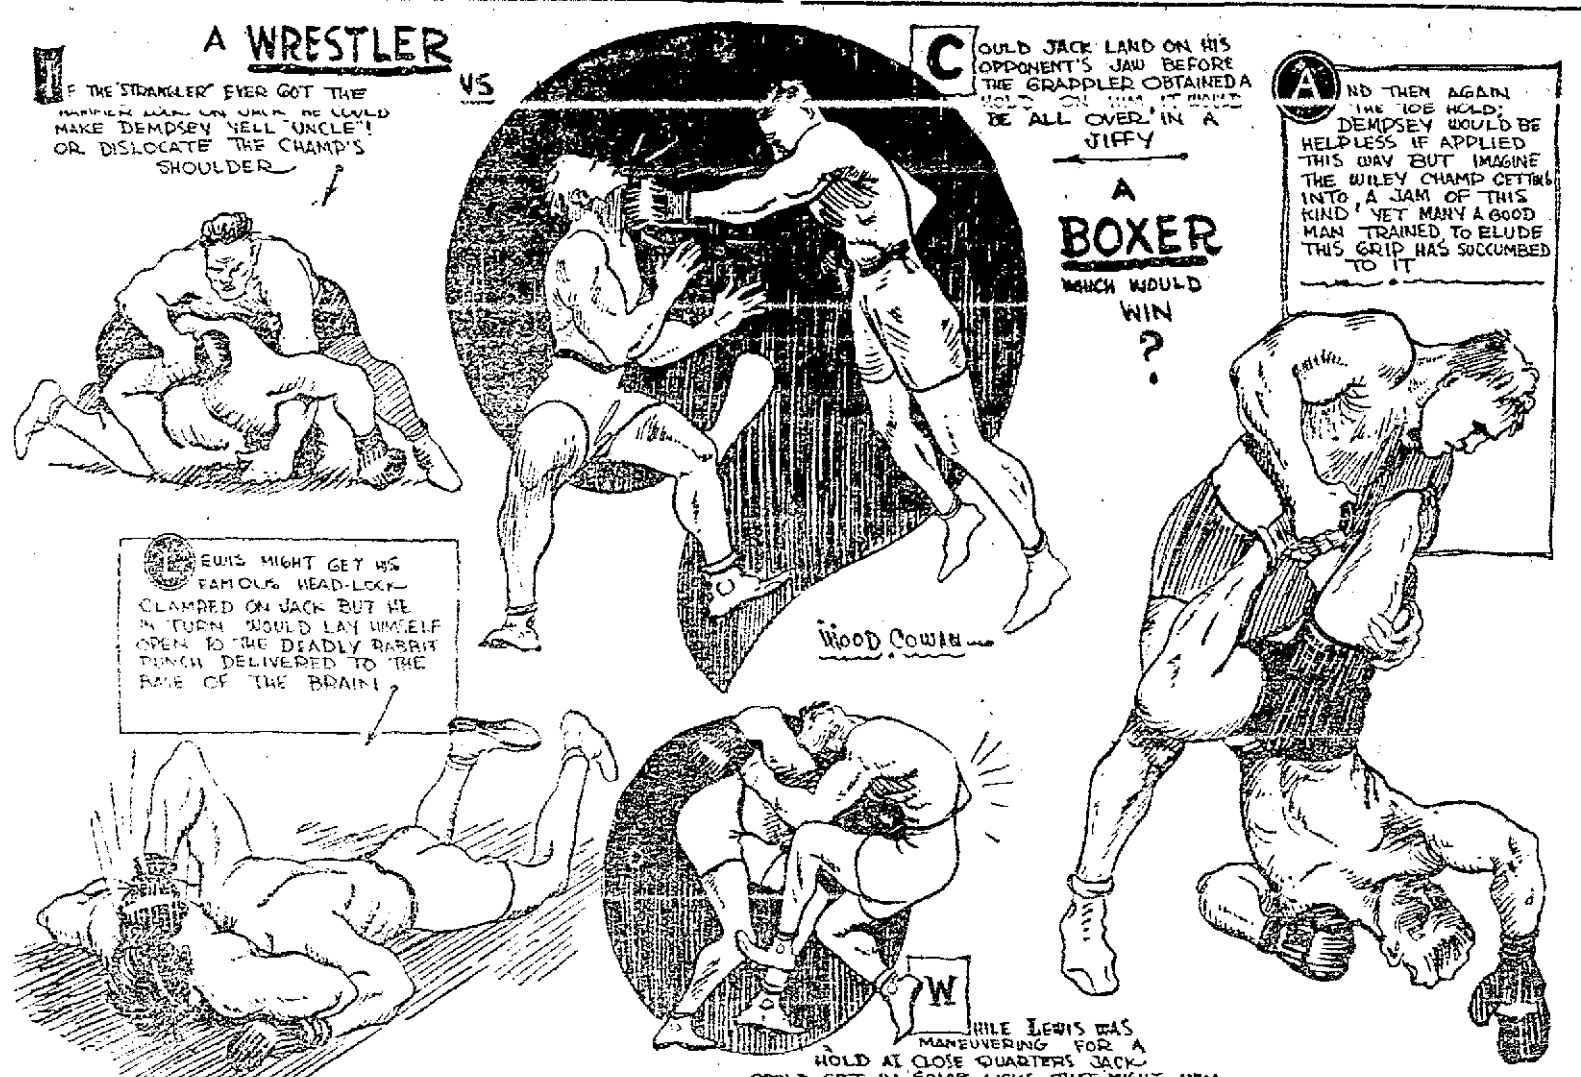

"I am being hammered in every way that my enemies can see fit. They came home and said that nobody I mean club owners, managers and players—would talk to me or shake my hand at Louisville. Well, I would like to shake that everybody who I knew and met grasped my hand gladly, and said that they were disgusted with the deal I was handed, and that everything must have been framed up. I know if my case was left to the club owners of the major and minor leagues, I would win out without a doubt. But it is too late now, as the men who acted on the board were poisoned against me. I do not believe that I was passed up at the meeting by any more club owners or managers than was the president of the Coast League and the owners of the Seals."

Protests McCarthy's Allowing of Claim.

"No mention has ever been made of the fact that the Portland Club was given a raw deal when President McCarthy ruled that I should pay Ray Raymond $4500 for back salary and an additional $500 because he introduced Pitcher George (Lefty) Walberg to me. I had no right to tell me that I should pay Raymond money because the pitcher made good. Walberg was a busher when I signed him, and although I admitted that Raymond introduced me to him, he did not have any influence toward Walberg signing."

WHEN FIGHTER MEETS WRESTLER

By Wood Cowan

Can a fighter beat a wrestler? That question has been making the rounds in sporting circles the past few days and has the Gas League causing fur into the night around the old town.

The fighters as a rule contend that they can defeat a grappler without getting a flat tire. But Floyd Johnson, a young heavy-weight, who has aspirations to meet Dempsey, tried it in an abbreviated way and comes out with the statement that a wrestler could overcome a fighter in five minutes.

Not "Strangler" Lewis, master of more trick-holds than any other mat artist, comes with coin of the realm of the amount of $25,000, and is willing to bet that he can make Jack Dempsey say "Uncle" in a fight.

These two masters of their respective arts of self-defense ever got into the ring together. It certainly would be a very interesting two minutes—I doubt if it would last longer for if Dempsey could win he would have to have a knockout walloped before the "Strangler" could lay a hand on him.

Once Lewis clamped a hammer lock on Jack he could make the champ give up or dislocate his shoulder, and should he get a toe hold or wrist lock I am sure he could convince Dempsey with very little effort that the war was over. There are any number of trick holds used in wrestling that require years of experience to perfect and the same amount of time to perfect a defense and method of eluding them. Jack is of course not familiar with these and once he was caught in the "Strangler's" grip all would be lost unless the champ could send his K. O. home.

The "Headlock," "Scissors hold," "Go behind," "Half Nelson" and many other holds are deadly when applied to the limit by a man of Lewis' ability. Against all these Dempsey has his punch. The minute he lost his feet and was thrown to the canvas he would be helpless, and a grappler is well versed in the art of keeping an adversary.

We are inclined to think that the wrestler would have a big edge on a fighter in a bout to a finish.

Class A Teams To Play Games Next Sunday

Reports from managers of teams in the Oakland Tribune Midwinter League indicate that most of the games scheduled for next Sunday will be played under the influence of a heavy rain between times. "Pinky" Leonard at Hayward says that everything will be fine for the Del Monte Cafe and Hayward Booster game at the Hayward ball park. From San Leandro comes the report that the diamond will be in first class shape, and that the Silver of the Merced Merchants looked over the field at Merced and announced everything should be fine for the game between the Merced Merchants and Magnolia team at San Leandro. The "Best" Tigers will certainly be on the field at San Leandro. The Oakland Native No. 50, Chevrolet diamond on Fourth and Broadway where the Durant Motors are scheduled with the Chevrolet Motors should also be fit for play.

The Coast Division diamonds might be the ones responsible for the postponing of some games. At Elmhurst where the Fruitvale Eagles are scheduled to meet the Del Monte Eagles No. 8, there is a young lake, while at General Electric field, at Fifty-fifth avenue, things looked about the same. At the latter place the Coast Tire and Rubber Company is scheduled to meet the Vinton Parkers. The field at Vinton Park is in good shape. At the Vinton school where the Vinton Parkers are to meet the Zenith Mill and Lumber is also pretty bad. One game that is certain to be played if there is no more rain is the Coast League Park. The "Best" Tigers and Lee Berthelion players, who hold the two top positions in the division, will tangle at 2 o'clock.

The Division of Ball games for the day place where a National Division game will be played. That diamond is full of small puddles and very muddy. The Mercantile Trust Bank and Thomas E. Wilsons are booked out there. At the Coast League park at 11:15 the Coast League Water and Maxwell Hardware teams will meet. The Cony Drugs will meet the Pleasant Merchants at Alhambra field. Fortieth and San Pablo avenue.

Kenworthy to Join Beavers Again in 1924

William ("Kopecks") Kenworthy will return to Portland in 1924 and manage the Beavers, according to the statement made yesterday. The Columbus club of the American Association did not buy Bill from the Beavers, as he was already a free agent through the decision of Commissioner Landis and President William McCarthy. Kenworthy signed with the Columbus club the understanding that he will be allowed to return to Portland next season. If "Kopecks" Elliot has his usual good season with the Columbus club, Kenworthy will take him back to Portland with him. Elliot is strong for Kenworthy, and the latter is just as strong for Elliot, so the little catcher should go big.

Combie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics made it possible for the Beavers to get Kenworthy. According to Kenworthy and Klepper, Mack paid the Beavers $5000 for Kenworthy and then turned him over to the Beavers as part payment for infielder Sammy Hale. Mack has promised to get the Beavers another catcher as good as Kenworthy, and also a pitcher and third sacker. The pitcher is now on the Philadelphia American club.

YANKEES, WHITE SOX FAIL TO MAKE TRADE INVOLVING E. COLLINS

New York Club Refuses to Part With Waite Hoyt; President Ban Johnson of American League Failed to Explode Bomb.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—After a week of discussion about the necessity of clean uniforms and the release of pop bottles forever, the major league club owners were on their way home today.

The most important event of the annual convulse of the men who make their living out of baseball, was the failure of Ban Johnson's bomb to explode.

The president of the American League some weeks ago told all with ears that he was going to say something at the meeting of moguls that would knock them off their chairs. As far as is known, however, all the magnates retained their positions.

The magnates did take one constructive move to stop the talk in the stacks about "pennant buying." They decided that after June 15 no trades or sales can be made between major league clubs. Stars can be plucked out of the minors, however, without violating the rule.

As was predicted, there were no big deals at the convulse. All the club owners and managers wanted infielders, outfielders, pitchers and catchers, but in their characteristic way they wanted them for nothing.

Yankees Fail to Get Collins From White Sox

Outstanding today was the intimation by officials of both New York and Chicago American League clubs that the deal by which the Yankees sought to acquire Eddie Collins, star second baseman of the White Sox, had practically fallen through.

Colonel Jacob Ruppert of the Yankees declared that the past twenty-four hours had failed to bring the two clubs closer together on a definite proposition. "Kid" Gleason, Chicago manager, likewise declared he saw little prospect of an agreement. It was learned, however, that Dick Kerr, White Sox southpaw who is under suspension for failure to report last year and playing with illegals, has been chinned from any deal because he must remain another year outside of ineligible company on the diamond before obtaining reinstatement. Efforts to secure leniency in the case because of his previous record failed, it was said.

From other sources it was reported that the Yankees objected to including Waite Hoyt, along with Aaron Ward, second baseman, and Bob Meusel, outfielder, in a deal for Collins and Bob Fink, White Sox outfielder. The Yankees were said to be ready to part with either Carl Mays or Sam Jones, but Chicago insisted upon Hoyt.

Meanwhile, reports circulated that the Yankees, as an alternative or possibly an adjunct to a Chicago deal, had offered the unprecedented sum of $175,000 for Shortstop Joe Raley, of the Baltimore International League Club, who is declared to be the most sought-after performer in the minors. Manager Huggins of the Yankees denied any deal for Raley and reports that he would not be disposed of at all for at least a year were put at rest by announcement in Baltimore that the infielder had signed a 1923 contract with the Orioles.

Jack Dunn, Baltimore owner, declared he would under no consideration part with Hoyt now. He is known to have refused one offer of $100,000 for his star.

Dunn intimated that the choice of players from whom he would be disposed of rested among Merwin Jacobson, outfielder; Jim McAvoy, catcher, and Max Bishop, second baseman. Branch Rickey, part owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, negotiated with Dunn for one or more of these men, but the deal fell through when Dunn insisted upon Jacques Fournier, first baseman, as part of any exchange to replace Jack Bentley, recently sold by Baltimore to the New York Giants.

Chance Surprised Over Few Deals For Players

"This has been one of the most unproductive meetings, as far as deals are concerned, that I ever attended," declared Frank Chance, former "Peerless Leader" of the Chicago Cubs and now pilot of the Boston Red Sox. "I am sure that he was in the market for several players to bolster his team, but that 'he couldn't get a nickel for anything he was willing to sell or buy from any one else for less than a million dollars.'"

Ty Cobb declared he was looking for some new material for the Detroit Tigers.

Combie Mack, who recently resigned from the St. Louis Cardinals, Oregon club of the Pacific Coast League for $75,000, denied that Jimmy Dykes, second baseman, was in market, adding that if he could obtain one more good player he would stand pat on his team for 1923.

Teams Cannot Bolster Later Than June 15

Major league magnates jammed the brakes on last season sales and deals and thus checked for a time at least the outcry against the "buying of pennants." This was accomplished by the passing of a rule which prevents the transferring of players from one club to another in the major leagues without waiver process after June 15.

Heretofore such deals were possible up to August 1. Under the new regulation the manager of a team which by June 15 is not a strong pennant contender cannot increase the playing strength of his club except by purchase of players from the minor leagues.

To offset this rule the clubs next season will be permitted to carry a roster of 40 players up to June 15 in place of May 15, and the additional month will enable them to experiment and ascertain the value of younger players who heretofore have been shunted back to minors unless they flashed sterling form during the first month of the pennant race. An effort to increase the maximum number of players permitted any one club previous to June 15 from 40 to 50 was lost after the National League had voted in favor of it and the American against it, when Commissioner Landis voted in the negative. However, major league clubs hereafter will be permitted to have 15 players out under option in place of eight, but the proposal to permit a players being held under option for three years in place of two was defeated.

SHE'S A WOMAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY—This photo is of Mrs. Maud Howe Elliott, daughter of Julia Ward Howe, who has applied to the Superior Court of Newport, R. I., for naturalization. Women without a country are becoming numerous as a result of the new American law making it necessary for American women who marry aliens to be re-naturalized before they can be considered American citizens again. Being married to a British subject, Mrs. Elliott comes under the ruling.

Note how the veil is retained, although virtually the entire face is exposed—the style now common with Moslem women of modern ideas.

WOLLY WOOLLY WORLD

What Dorothy Dix Says

SHALL MOTHER PICK THEM?

A young girl writes me that she is in love with a poor young man, and wants to marry him, but that her mother bitterly opposes the match.

Mother hasn't a thing against the young man except his poverty, but she wants her daughter to marry a man who can give her a fine house, and an automobile, and Paris clothes, and all the other opportunities of wealth.

"I want to save you from the life that I have had to lead," says the mother. "I don't want to see your names knotted and work-hardened. I don't want to see you grow old before your time because you have not the leisure or the money to preserve your youth and good looks."

"I don't want you to know the sorrows of having to huddle over every penny. I don't want you to know the wearying anxiety of wondering desperately where the money is to come from to pay the butcher, the baker, and the candle stick maker. I don't want you to know the anguish that tears at a mother's heart, as she sees her children growing up, and knows that she cannot give them the advantages that other people give their children."

"Believe me, my child, romance doesn't last. Husbands soon cease to be lovers, and then the thing that counts to a woman are the things that money buys. Physical comforts. Dances. Amusements. Pretty frocks. Travel. There are the consolation prizes that life gives to the woman who is married to a well-to-do man when it shatters her illusions about matrimony. But if she marries a poor man, she is left empty handed, as well as empty."

The woman who preaches this hard, and material doctrine to her daughter is not the sort of woman she seems. She is a good woman, a loving and tender mother who doesn't realize that she has been so long in the habit of selling herself to the highest bidder.

She is just a woman who is so worn out with the struggles and hardships of narrow means that she has lost her perspective. She has held a coin to her eye and has blotted out the universe to be.

She has forgotten many things. She has forgotten that there are some things so beautiful and wonderful that they are worth any price that we have to pay for them. She has forgotten that the glory and fulfillment of young love is a thing that cannot be bought. Perhaps romantic love does not often last, but have known the splendor and the majesty and the circling wings of it, even for a month, even for a week, even for a day or an hour, is a thing that has left its great mark and leaves one with a memory that glides the drabness of a lifetime.

No money, no position, no motor cars, compensate a woman for missing this, and the woman who has never loved is poverty stricken no matter if she has the wealth of a Croesus.

The mother who tries to induce her daughter to marry for money forgets that the wheel of fortune turns, and that the poor man of today may be the rich man of tomorrow.

Many a girl who marries a poor, ambitious young man and sets up housekeeping in a two room cottage where she does her own housework, spends the latter years of her life in a palace had married upon her life of poverty.

SAVING CAR LIFE.

When a man and a woman consider a brilliant match, and who takes her honeymoon on a private yacht, is walking in a car, and is by the time she is middle-aged, indeed, so rapidly do fortunes change, nowadays, that it might almost be said that a girl has a choice between marrying a husband young man, and being a beggar, or marrying a rich man, and being a pauper in her old age.

The worldly mother who wants her daughter to marry a rich man, forgets that it is more fun to make money than it is to spend it, and that any successful married couple will tell you that the best years of their lives are not the golden ones of the present, but the lean years in which they struggled and fought, side by side.

A man and a woman who start poor, and work together, who plan, and hope, and aspire together, are comrades who dare the great adventure and they are bound to each other by a tie that husbands and wives who have always had plenty of money, and therefore have never known poverty, and amusements, never know.

Child's History of the HUMAN RACE

As the gods were, we may feel glad someone helped him escape part of the gods' cruel punishment.

"Who has done this dreadful deed?" asked the gods when they saw Balder lying dead.

"I am not sure," said the gods, "but I think it was the work of some one who was not one of us."

All turned angry eyes upon the god of darkness. He was doomed to death.

Loki had slipped away. As time went on, the gods tried to forget their sorrow. One time, Odin, an ocean ruler, invited them to a feast in his palace. Loki was not asked to come, but he wanted some of the good things to eat, and came anyway.

When the keeper of the door saw Loki, he said: "You are not invited here. Go somewhere else."

Loki became hot with anger. He struck the man dead at the spot. They were in horror because there had been murder in a sacred place.

Loki ran away but soon came back. Brushing past the new keeper he entered the banquet hall.

THE PIRATES AND THE WITCHES

There was once some pirates that was always bothered by the witches. So one day the pirates were in their den when they heard a great noise. The witches were coming. The pirates did not know what to do. They ran as fast as they could.

The witches had their brooms so they flew after them. The witches caught them and they began to tickle the pirates. The pirates were so tickled that they began to laugh. But one witch was too wise—she hid behind the pirates. The witch had magic—a magic ring—so she said some magic words and the pirates felt bad.

A GOOFY STORY.

One day my two months old baby brother and I went out on a hunt. My brother had a twelve gauge shotgun and I had a colt.

"Oh, I wish my son Bolder were here to slunge your ugly tongue!" "Ah, ha!" shouted Loki. "I'll tell you something! I was the one who gave the mistletoe to Hoder."

All voices were hushed for a moment. Loki began to tear Thor's hammer. He ran to the door and plunged into the ocean—a salmon!

The gods caught him in a net, and he changed himself back to his own form. He was bound between rocks like the Fenris wolf. A serpent above let fall drops of poison, and these would have killed him except for his wife. She was the one person in the world who cared for him still. As the drops fell she caught them in a bowl.

The very old young girl gave it to him to drink. It was a mixture of love and ammonia.

We walked away again until we came to a very high forest of rose-bushes. We saw a very fat tiger. He was about ten feet high and was very brave. He walked in and commanded, "Give me some catnip or I'll fill you up to full of lead you will give three ounces!"

We then came to a field about five feet square. In this field was an aeroplane. We jumped in and my brother drove the plane over the water of the great ocean. We were speeding along at the rate of a hundred miles an hour when I leaped a hawk following away down in the water below us. I shot at him, missed him and killed him.

found a scene. The youth was clear headed and he did not fall for the man's hokum nor his high promises.

"There remained two alternatives. Ottoman could content himself with the haul of $25,000 and leave the prospective half million, he could finger story to put Benjamin out of business.

"Of course the world knows that Benjamin Willard's death was one of the invisible fingers murders. To this day, however, the New York police has not fatigued the secret of his assassination. I will tell you. He died as Quist died.

"Willard's murder made such a furor that Ottoman decided to lay low for a time before trying to flim-flam the old lady. He wrote a very clever confession, signing it invisible fingers, and designed to throw the blame elsewhere and distract the attention of the authorities from the occult side of the thing.

"While waiting for the Willard thing to clear up, Katherine Dunstan called on Ottoman and she told him that John Dunstan was a real detective. Ottoman got all the information he could about the old man and then began operations.

"John Dunstan was exceedingly surprised when the ghost of his daughter appeared to him in his bed chamber. It not only frightened him but it got him to think that Ottoman managed to get some of his own literature into the old man's hands. It was a trick of the trade.

"Spirit Materialization" and in it Ottoman's address in Greenwich Village was given. He was a very old man, and he was a very old man.

"Apparently voluntarily Dunstan called on Ottoman and then began a series of seances which revealed those in the Willard case. The old fellow was feeble minded, but exceedingly stingy. He wanted ghost manifestations and he wanted them cheap. His niece, Helen Warren, came to live with him. She was his sole heir. She learned of his dealings with Ottoman, but instead of objecting she fell for the fakir harder than had the old man.

"She worshipped this ghost producer as if he were a god. Ottoman began working on the old fellow through the girl, at Dunstan was stubborn. He wouldn't have anything to do with spooks unless they were produced at reduced rates.

"The climax of the whole thing was that Ottoman disposed of Dunstan in the same way he had murdered young Willard.

"Two rich birds were caught now, but the time for plucking was not ripe. Ottoman was shrewd. He wanted to make sure that the motive of swindling could not be laid at his door.

"He began thinking now about taking a trip west.

"As I said, he always read the death notices closely. He subscribed to a clipping bureau that sent him stories of deaths printed in papers all over the land. When he saw the story of the death of Edward Quist, young son of Alexander and Ada Quist, multi-millionaire, he decided to go to California at once. He could write the Quist swindle in a few months and then return and receive his money. He was a very old man, and he was a very old man.

Jubilee's Pardner

But Jubilee had beat him to it and came walking out with it in his mouth.

Friday, Tomorrow is slumgullion day. Today, Mush said that if any of our folks had a loaf of bread handy that was not working he could show us something with it that would help the slumgullion. But, Butch said he could get a loaf. So when school let out we all went around to his house and whilst he was talking to his mother his little brother went in the pantry and dropped a loaf of bread out of the window. Then Butch came out and went to go around back the house for it, but Jubilee had beat him to it and came walking out with it in his mouth. Butch grabbed it right quick and hid it inside of his shirt, so that no one would see that he had it and tell his mother.

When we took it back to school Mush said it was fine. Then we went around and took a look at the sick hen at Hepper's but it is so much better than Hepper says his mother is sure now that she can cure it. She is sure she will not give it to us for the slumgullion. We went back and told Mush, and he looked very sad. He said it would be an awful blow to Little Spore Rib, which is his wife, but that we would have to get along as best we can. He said to be sure to be there at 12 o'clock tomorrow, and we said we would.

Then we went down to the pond and made it up that we would not eat any supper tonight or any breakfast in the morning, because we knew that the slum was going to be so good that we would want all we could hold of it.

The bunch went home with me whilst I cleaned out my barn, so that I would not have to do it tomorrow, and then we went down to the breakwater because my mother told me my grandfather was down there fishing through the ice and to go down and chop him loose and bring him home so he could get his fish.

We did not think he was there but just when we were going back Jubilee saw a speck way out on the ice and backed, so we went out, and it was my grandfather setting there with a purple nose holding a line in the water. And he did not have any more fish than there is hair on a frog. I told him supper was ready so he wound up his line and went over and climbed up on the breakwater and went home. If I had any money I would buy him a fish once in a while so he would not get cold in the winter time. He is a good old fella.

We got home sooner than we thought we would, because we went home through Irish Town and the sticks saw us, and they came and with them so they chased us. I told my mother that I did not want any supper, and she looked at my tongue and said I had better go to bed.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE

Uncle Wiggily

Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BLACK-CAT.

His Blackcat! cried the bunny.

"Uncle Wiggily! Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Wait a minute!" called a voice one morning, as the bunny gentleman started away from his hollow stump bungalow, to hop along looking for an adventure.

"What is it, Baby Bunny? Why are you stopping Uncle Wiggily when it is so near to Christmas, and he must see if he can help Santa Claus?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, I won't keep Uncle Wiggily a minute—hardly a second," answered Baby Bunny. The cute teasing little rabbit girl, who had been found in a hollow stump, was playing for a few days with Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane.

"What is it, Baby Bunny?" asked Uncle Wiggily, waiting in the hall long enough to see into the future to see that his pink nose was twinkling straight.

"Please bring me a little red blow-up balloon," begged Baby Bunny.

"Bring you a balloon? Oh, all right, I will," promised Uncle Wiggily. "I can't get a red one, will you blue pink or green do just as well?"

"Yes," answered Baby Bunny, and then she hopped about the bungalow singing, because she was happy in the bunny gentleman was going to bring her a balloon.

Uncle Wiggily hopped over the fields and through the woods, looking on all sides for an adventure. The rabbit girl needs go rather slowly, for there was snow on the ground, and he had brought his snowshoes with him, not thinking the snow was deep enough, which they hardly were.

"If I were a snowshoe rabbit or northern hare, who is a cousin of mine, I would never have to carry snowshoes," thought Uncle Wiggily, "for snowshoes grow on his feet in winter."

This is very true, as perhaps you know. In winter, on the hind feet of the snowshoe rabbit, there grow two large, white, furry pads, which are almost like snowshoes to a hunter or Indian trapper. The fur keeps the hare's feet from sinking in the snow. But Uncle Wiggily had none of these, so he hung on to his snowshoes as best he could, unless he made snowshoes for himself, which he often did.

"But I'm getting along pretty well," said the bunny rabbit gentleman to himself, "though I don't seem to be finding many adventures. I suppose it is so near Christmas that even one is worth getting this time." He began to hop for Santa Claus. Well, I may as well go to the top store and get Baby Bunny's balloon.

There were so many lovely things to look at in the toy store that the bunny gentleman remained there longer than he intended, after he had bought Baby Bunny's balloon. But at last he started back to his hollow stump bungalow.

Now, though Uncle Wiggily knew it not, an adventure was coming after him, and it was not a jolly good adventure, either for him or for the bunny gentleman.

The name of the adventure was "Blackcat," an animal of the weasel family, very fierce and hungry for white. Small white mice, called blackcats, "fisher," though it never fishes and will never go in the water if it can help it. The Indians call the blackcat "Pekkan," meaning the killer in the dark. For the blackcat starts out after dark to catch rabbits and squirrels. And, as it is one of the best of the tree climbers, Blackcat often catches squirrels.

Uncle Wiggily was hopping along over the snow, thinking how ner caution, when an old stooge, the gathering heard something coming after him.

"It's Blackcat!" cried the bunny, looking behind him, and Blackcat did look like a big, black cat, with a fluffy tail. On the ground where he was now traveling, blackcat looked like a dog, and altogether he was a strange, fierce animal.

"Wait a minute! Wait a minute!" cried Blackcat after Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, ho! I know what you want me to wait for—so you can nibble in your ears!" cried the bunny. "Not much! I'm going to run!"

Uncle Wiggily hopped fast, but Blackcat hopped and glided along much faster, and Blackcat would have caught the bunny except, just then, Uncle Wiggily reached the bank of a little river. It was flowing so fast that it had not frozen over.

If I can jump in and swim across, Blackcat can't get me, thought the bunny. "But I am not a good swimmer, and the water may chill me so that I'll sink. How, then, Blackcat, dare not go in the water at all, and if I thought I wouldn't sink, ah! I have it! Baby Bunny's balloon! It will be like a life preserver!"

Uncle Wiggily quickly blew up the balloon and then, holding it large and round, under his paw, he jumped in and he floated to shore.

"Hi! I fooled you, Blackcat!" cried the bunny, who reached the far bank of the river and looked across.

"Wah-gurr-r-r-r!" howled the Pekkan. And, though he was very Enough.

Enough—

What is enough?

What man is there who has enough?

Enough of gold?

And would you spurn the added power—

If further riches came to you—

When you had said in accents clear—

This is enough?

I think not, friend—I'll tell you why—

The young man stepping forth from school—

Has learned to gauge life by a rule—

But little knows he of the strife—

That he must face—

As he begins a toilsome life—

He is a creature of ideals—impractical—

A little home—just room for two—

A crust of bread—and you—

That is enough—why seek for more?

That is the creed of immature—

It all too soon goes up in smoke—

The young man saves unto the day—

When he can build a little nest—

For his dream girl—then comes the test—

Of all his ardent theories.

For soon as slips the honeymoon—

He changes to a different tune—

The crust of bread and you—won't do—

For hearty appetites awake—

Demand at times a little cake—

So he revises his young dream—

To fit some better in the scheme—of life—

And he goes out to seek for gold—

For children now enjoy his board—

And for them he must have and hoard—

All for their future comfort—

So placing all his dreams in store—

The crust of bread—and you—no more—

He enters in the killing game—of men—

And wins the race—

And finds enjoyment in the winning—

Until he stands in mighty place—

Without disgrace—

Now golden millions wait his word—

And if he wanted to expend—the interest then—

T'would be but folly—

Has he enough?—let's see—my friend—

Now that he has wealth without stint—

Wealth means but little to him now—and added gold—

But it's the game that holds him close—

It is the chase that heats his blood—

He cannot use the added flood—of gold—

That batters at his door—

But it is life to death and win—

To test your strength—to know full power—

To outwit other men each hour—

That is the urge that's in man's blood—

And not the greed for gold—

So search the world—no man you'll find—

Who has—enough.

PROTEST IS MADE ON CUT IN SIZE OF OAKLAND HIGH

TAX COLLECTIONS HERE RUN UP TO $2,000,400.50

Committee Asking $1,350,000 Be Set Aside to Wait On Education Board.

Delinquencies, Which Include Two Cases in Dispute, Below Average.

Protest against cutting down the size of the proposed new Oakland high school in the new building was registered yesterday at a meeting of the alumni at Oakland high school. A committee will wait on the board of education in the near future asking that $1,350,000 be set aside for the building in the plans for the new school.

The meeting was held at the call of Charles E. Jones, principal, who declared it was the desire of the friends of Oakland high to see the right kind of building erected. The original plans, drawn by Superintendent Arthur J. Dickey, called for a building 200,000 square feet, but had been modified in the interest of economy so that the school would hold only 1500 pupils. It was said Dickey said that for $1,350,000 it would be possible to take care of 2500 pupils. The committee will lay the matter before the board of education between now and the first of the year.

"Economy is the watchword of the new building program," said Dickey, "and cutting high was cut down along with every other part in the program. Our dollar must be stretched so that we can get rid of all shackles and portables. It is then, however, that there is a real demand for a better school for Oakland than I believe plans should be made for."

Dickey said he believed the forthcoming bond issue election to be held early in the spring will be for about $2,000,000. His former report will be reviewed by the board of education next Monday.

BERKELEY, Dec. 15.—The sixth of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce popular concert series will be given at the high school auditorium tomorrow evening at 8:15 o'clock with a special Christmas program by the Berkeley String Quartet. The soloists on this program will be Antonio de Grassi and William Dehe. Two of de Grassi's own violin numbers, "Valse-Serenade" and "Berceuse," will be played by the composer, who will also give a "Prelude" and "Allegro" by Pugnani-Kreisler. The quartet, including Pietro Dehe and Robert Rourke, will open the concert with Antonin Dvorak's Quartet in C-major, and the program will conclude with a group of familiar Christmas carols played by the quartet. In this program will be rendered, "Come, All Ye Faithful," "Holy Night" and "Noel."
